INDICTMENTS AND HENEY UNDER FIRE

Calhoun's Attorneys Ask Court to Set Aside Findings of Grand Jury

NO EVIDENCE AGAINST RAILWAY PRESIDENT

Six Out of Every Seven Jurors
in Cases Hold Officials Guilty

SAN FRANCISCO, June 28.—Setting forth that Francis J. Heney was illegally holding the office of assistant district attorney when he procured indictments against the officials of the United Railroads, that he was, in fact, an assistant to the attorney general of the United States, and that he was in the pay of Rudolph Spreckels, a private prosecutor, counsel for Patrick Calhoun renewed their motion to set aside the indictments against their client in Judge Lawlor's court this morning. Judge Lawlor will decide the matter on Wednesday.

Claim Evidence Lacking

Moreover, they claimed that there was not a scintilla of evidence against the president of the United Railroads, attesting that this had been demonstrated by the opinion of six out of seven jurors who had officiated in the three trials of General Ford and the one of Patrick Calhoun. A continuance was had until Wednesday in accordance with the stipulation entered into on Saturday, and at that time counsel for the defense is hopeful of securing a further continuance to enable the defendant and the attorneys to attend to pressing business interests, and to take a much-needed holiday.

When the cases were called they were immediately put over until Wednesday by Judge Lawlor, after which Attorney Moore announced a desire to present formally a motion to disqualify the District Attorney from acting in the case.

O'Gara Objects

Attorney O'Gara entered an objection to the motion, objected to any setting aside of the defendant's plea, and objected to the consideration of any motion to set aside the indictments on the ground that there was no warrant for such a proceeding and that it was too late in being presented.

"We desire to show by these affidavits," argued Attorney King in response, "that the assistant district attorney who was present in the grand jury room, supervised the introduction of testimony, and advised the grand jury, was receiving monthly payment from a private citizen, Rudolph Spreckels, and was also, during that time, acting as assistant district attorney and receiving money as an assistant to the attorney general of the United States. We have already drawn the attention of the court to this matter, and we think the assistant district attorney was disqualified in law from appearing before the grand jury."

Judge Lawlor stated that he would take time to examine the motion, which was offered with two exhibits containing numerous affidavits, and declared that he would rule on the matter on Wednesday.

Schmitz Case Involved

The case of Eugene T. Schmitz has been postponed until Wednesday until Attorney O'Gara stipulated that the United Railroads cases were continued. This led Attorney Stanley Moore to put in a word.

"If your honor please, if these cases are to go over on Wednesday until a certain further date for trial, we have something to say on that matter. So far as the trial which we have been demanding is concerned, we have had that trial, and I think it has been demonstrated that there is no case and can be no case against the officials of the United Railroads. There have been three trials of General Ford, and by those and by this case, six out of seven of the jurors have declared that there is nothing in these charges. We don't propose to force this case to another trial, the nature of which we believe would be a waste of time. We don't propose to stop the mouth of the defendant from clamoring for a trial. They want to make this an issue in the coming campaign. We are ready, of course, to go to trial at any

WHO STOLE HIS FALSE TEETH?

Who stole Thomas B. Reed's set of false teeth and tooth-brush? This is the question which is nagging the police and up to the present time no solution has offered itself. The detectives engaged on the case admit that it is the most mysterious and curious burglary ever reported in twenty years.

Detective Richard McSorley, when asked his opinion of the case, said contemptuously: "Who the deuce would want another man's teeth and his tooth-brush?"

After the above observation McSorley would have nothing further to do with the case.

Detectives Get Gay

Detective Kyle remarked: "Oh, he swallowed 'em while he was asleep."

Detective Harry Green was apparently amused at the report of the burglary. When asked about the case his usually serious face broke into a grin and he said:

"Who, some one sat down on the false teeth and the teeth bit back. They are probably fastened to some one's trousers at the present time."

Detective James Drew was not inclined to scoff as much as his associate detectives. He merely said: "If the teeth were stolen on the day time, it is only burglary in the second degree, and I do not see why the department should go to pieces about it. Of course if the teeth were stolen in the night time it would be burglary in the first degree and that is another matter."

Thus Reasoned Bill

Reliable "Bill" Quigley, the local detective who never fails, and who for twenty years has been the terror of every criminal big or little, and who knows the contents of every second-hand store and every pawnshop in town, smiled sardonically when he was asked about the case. He shrugged his shoulders and said:

"What second-hand store or what pawnshop would buy a set of false teeth and a tooth brush? Who could you get to buy them for over again?"

Captain of Detectives Petersen, who is also acting Chief of Police, put the question to the interviewer when he was asked about the case. He said: "Ah, forget it. I have something else to do."

Cold, Cruel Facts

Yet despite all the allegations, admissions and denials of the detectives the fact stands forth that some one feloniously entered the home of Thomas B. Reed, 618 Fifth street, yesterday and stole one pair of false teeth and a tooth brush to the aggregate value of $8.00 from a bathroom.

May Now Proceedin The Sale of Bonds

SAN FRANCISCO, June 28.—Superior Judge James M. Seawell rendered a decision today in which he ruled against the demurrer of Henry Root, who sought to prevent the Board of Supervisors from advertising for sale and selling bonds necessary to secure the proposed Hetch Hetchy water supply for this city.

Under this decision the supervisors are empowered to proceed with the bond sale at once.

The court, in addition, dissolved the original injunction, upholding all the principal contentions of the attorneys representing the city. An effort was made to delay the sale of the bonds up to the hour of 3 o'clock, at which time the supervisors were in readiness to resume the proceedings. Interrupted by the suit, but the court notified by telephone of the effect of the decision.

Bright Lad, Aged 11, Lost on Sabbath Day

SAN FRANCISCO, June 28.—James Roche, aged 11 years, an exceedingly bright little boy, with an attractive face and wavy hair, is missing, and a frantic mother and father are searching the city and the Marin county shore in quest of him. The lad left his home, 325 Sienra street, early yesterday morning, to visit a friend, Edwin Ebert, in Mill Valley. He had just money enough for the round trip, but he never reached his destination, and as he is familiar with the city, being employed as a mail boy at D. Samuels Lane House, it is feared that he has either met with foul play or been kidnapped.

"Boss" Tweed's Capturer Dies

NEW YORK, June 28.—Martin J. Keese, who was custodian of the New York City Hall for twenty-eight years, died yesterday in a hospital, aged 72 years. "Marty" Keese achieved fame in many ways, not the least of which was in the sensational capture and arrest of "Boss" Tweed. He had been a cripple since the battle of Bull Run, in which he was wounded, but he considered himself too much of a patriot to ever ask a pension.

Takes New Wife Every 11 Years

FRESNO, June 28.—When Sylvester B. Reese is married tomorrow to Mrs. Melinda Goodie of Santa Rosa, he will have established the unique record of one marriage for every eleven years of the seventy-seven he has lived. Reese's first wife died in 1880. The next five were lost to him by divorce, which he secured on the ground of desertion. Mrs. Goodie has been married twice.

ARREST NOW EXPECTED IN WOODILL CASE

Officials Still Search for Members of Mysterious Party at Bungalow

MANY BELIEVE THAT
EASTMAN IS INNOCENT

Letter Telling That Jealous
Woman Committed Murder
Impresses Jurymen

ST. MICHAELS, June 28.—The verdict of the coroner's jury in the Woodill murder case was "That Eastman killed Edith May Thompson Woodill or was accessory to the murder."

Four of the members of the jury refused to sign until the words "or was accessory to the murder," were added.

ST. MICHAELS, Md., June 28.—The coroner's inquest into the death of pretty Edith May Woodill was resumed today with several of the jurors still convinced that there was a large element of truth in the letter left by "Lame Bob" Eastman declaring there had been a party at his bungalow and that Mrs. Woodill had been slain by a jealous woman.

The jury met in the bungalow itself, within eight yards of the grave to which the body of Eastman was consigned early yesterday. It is not believed now that a definite verdict will be rendered by the jury and it is certain that no matter what may be the outcome of today's sitting of the inquest, investigation of the tragedy will be carried forward by the law officers of the State and county without diminished energy.

The witnesses gave interesting testimony before the coroner's jury, but declined to change materially the complexion of the strange case. William Sutton, who went to the shack to ask Eastman to attend a religious meeting, definitely fixed the time of his visit as Sunday afternoon between 5 and 6 o'clock. This also definitely fixes the time of the murder as occurring on Sunday night. Sutton swore positively that he heard angry voices.

Geo. Powell testified that he spent all day Saturday at Sutton's farm, within view of the bungalow, and that he saw no one go into the shack that day. Powell said he met Eastman on Wednesday in front of the bungalow and that for the first time in their acquaintance Eastman did not ask him to come in.

Tells of Women

Powell said Eastman told him he had picked up some girls at St. Michaels on Saturday and had asked them if they would go to the bungalow in his launch. They agreed and everything went well until the launch grounded off Robert Seeth's place. Then the girls "got cold feet," Eastman said they wanted to go home. Eastman then waded ashore and asked Seeth to lend him a boat as he had two ladies to protect.

Eastman said he eventually got the girls ashore and drove them home. Seeth testified that Eastman appeared at his place on Sunday night between 11 and 11:30 o'clock, saying his launch was ashore and that he had a "lady" on board and that he would not give the girls up until he was paid $1000. Seeth said that he agreed to let Eastman have a team and to place it where he and the girl could reach it without being seen. The team was placed at the point agreed upon, but remained there unhealed for all night.

Mrs. Eastman, widow of the suicide, came to St. Michaels this afternoon to claim the money and property of her late husband. In the absence of proof of her wedding, the authorities would not give the property up. They declined also to honor a draft of $70 by Mrs. Eastman against the money found upon Eastman.

Mrs. Eastman then went to the bungalow and stood in the yard for a time beside the grave of her husband. Some of the neighbors up the road planted one with ill-judged humor had planted a tomato vine on the new made mound. Mrs. Eastman asked what sort of flower it was. No one in the party told her.

In Financial Straits

The authorities give no credence to a report circulated last night that Eastman tried to induce Mrs. Woodill to elope to Europe with him and that he killed her when she refused. This report went on to state that Eastman's hiding place had been discovered and that it was necessary for him again to take flight. As a cold matter of fact Eastman was in financial straits and did not have money enough to take himself to Europe to say nothing of the girl.

The striking fact remains that East-

WICKERSHAM CALLS HALT IN DEVLIN INQUIRY

Refuses to Give Files of Perrin
Hearing to the Senate Committee

APPOINTMENT TO GO
OVER UNTIL THIS FALL

Attorney General Declares it
"Inexpedient" to Furnish
Information Desired

WASHINGTON, July 28.—Attorney General Wickersham refuses to send to the Senate the file in the Department of Justice relating to the trial of Dr. E. B. Perrin, charged with conspiracy to defraud the government in California timber land cases.

This data was demanded in connection with the nomination of Robert T. Devlin to be United States attorney for the northern district of California. The Senate Committee on Judiciary today decided to put over the Devlin nomination until the next regular session of Congress.

Calls it "Inexpedient"

It would be "inexpedient" to supply the information, reported Wickersham to the committee, as the Perrin case is still subject to retrial. Several members of the Judiciary committee express dissatisfaction with Wickersham's response. The committee decided it would not now be wise to become involved in a controversy with the Department of Justice.

The appointment of Devlin will be necessary if he continues to serve as district attorney after the present session adjourns. Members of the committee assert that the information will have to be produced of President Taft re-appoints Devlin and the nomination comes before the committee for consideration next session.

Charge Against Devlin

Devlin prosecuted one case against Perrin, resulting in conviction. The higher court reversed the case and remanded it for a new trial on the ground that perjury destroyed the verdict. The chief opposition to the confirmation of Devlin relates to his failure to bring action against the alleged perjurer.

Members of the Senate committee have criticized former Attorney General Bonaparte because he ignored the recommendation of Mr. Harr that proceedings against Perrin be not pressed. The committee is now directed against Wickersham. Members of the California delegation declare that Devlin unquestionably will be re-nominated by Taft.

Woman Shoots Man Who Killed Husband

NEW YORK, June 28.—In revenge for the alleged murder of her husband, a year ago, Mrs. Louise La Partia today fired four bullets into Dominio Versiglia, fatally wounding him. Mrs. La Partia was arrested.

The shooting took place on the sidewalk at Spring and Sullivan streets as Versiglia was on his way to work. Mrs. La Partia was waiting for him and when he approached she she opened fire with a revolver.

Mrs. La Partia declared that Versiglia murdered her husband a year ago and that she had appealed in vain to the police to punish him.

White Clad Senators Take Up Tariff Bill

WASHINGTON, June 28.—Intense hot weather brought out a variety of picnic clothing when Senators assembled today to take up the tariff bill. Vice-President Sherman, attired in white and he used a big palm leaf fan. Vests were generally discarded by the Senators. Hughes, Bacon, Nixon and Dick were conspicuous in white clothing.

Mrs. 'Frankie' Brown, Handsomest Woman in South, Sues for Divorce

Mrs. Frank Snowden Ridgley Brown, "the Most Beautiful Woman in the South," Who Seeks a Divorce.

NEW YORK, June 28.—Mrs. Frank Snowden Ridgley Brown, who has long been called the most beautiful woman of the South, today electrified social circles both here and at Newport, where she has long been an acknowledged leader of the younger set, by the filing of a divorce suit against her husband, son of former Governor Brown, club man and millionaire, with whom she eloped three years ago under the most romantic circumstances.

The exact reasons for her separation from handsome, dashing "Frankie" Brown, who took her heart by storm during her first season of appearing on stage, routing any number of aspiring swains who coveted nothing so much as her hand, she will refuse to divulge, but there are rumors, elusive yet insistent, that the matrimonial chains hung heavily on the young husband, and that a charming little actress now playing a successful musical comedy engagement in London has captured his airy fancy.

The announcement that she was about to bring suit was made this morning by Mrs. Brown herself, and not even her most intimate friends were taken into the secret until the complaint papers were an established fact.

She will remain in this city until the decree of separation is an accomplished fact, and it is understood that Brown, who has been away from the family home in Baltimore since last winter, driving fast automobiles and paying marked attention to the horse races, will not contest the suit.

Brown is a brother of the former Mrs. Gordon Taylor Hughes, of New York, who recently married the Standard Oil millionaire, Alfred Elliott Dietrich. He is a very spectacular young man. Upon the death of his mother he fell heir to a large fortune, but instead of going into business he essayed to become a newspaper reporter. He got a place on a Baltimore paper and reported for his assignments behind a pair of horse show winners, named "Brand" and "Soda." A footman tale beside him.

This was too much for the newspaper world, and he landed two weeks as a reporter. They still cherish recollections of him as the "It" & "S" reporter.

He met his wife, then Miss Mabel Michael, not well off, but ravishingly beautiful, on an automobile trip. He fell in love with her at once and within a few days persuaded her to elope with him to New York.

They tried to get a priest to marry them, Miss Michael being a Catholic, but were unsuccessful. Eventually they were wedded by the Rev. Henry Marsh Warren, New York's champion marrying parson. Mrs. Brown has achieved wide popularity in society because of her beauty.

FOLLY LED TO SIGEL GIRL'S DEATH, SAYS MISSIONARY

Woman Who Has Taught Chinese Points
Out Dangers of Social Intercourse
With Them.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 28.—Among the passengers who sail for the Orient tomorrow on board the "Yuyo Maru" is Miss Anna E. Hartwell, a San Francisco woman, who has been engaged in missionary work among the Chinese for over eighteen years. She began, in this city, to teach the Orientals at the age of 17. She is a native of China herself. She was born in Shanghai province, North China. Her father has been a missionary to the Chinese for fifty-one years. When interviewed in regard to her experience in teaching Chinese men English in the mission schools, Miss Hartwell said:

"I have taught in the Chinese Sunday schools in the East. I know the conditions. In regard to the recent horrible tragedy of the murder of Elsie Sigel by the Chinese Leung Ling, there can be but one opinion among both Americans and Chinese. It is one of the sad results of a mistaken method of mission work. I saw the evils of it when I visited the East and taught in the schools again this spring. I have been tested against it whenever I have had opportunity in addressing meetings, or even in speaking in the schools themselves.

Makes Blood Boil
"It makes my blood boil with indignation when I see the familiarity with which the Chinese men are treated by refined, educated, cultured, gentlewomen. I suppose the Oriental dress has something to do with it. Their soft silk garments made in loosely flowing lines, resemble that of the western woman's garb rather than that of men. Their manner carries out the deception."

Usually the Chinese are quiet and gen-

BULLETS FLY IN BATTLE AT CAR BARN

First Serious Outbreak in Pittsburg Strike Results in Exchange of Shots

FOUR STRIKE BREAKERS
AND DETECTIVE BEATEN

Mayor Threatens to Use His Plenary Powers to Settle
Trolley Dispute

CINCINNATI, June 28.—

About 200 men will be sent to Pittsburg from Cincinnati to take the places of street car employees who have gone on a strike.

PITTSBURG, June 28.—The first real violence in the car strike situation occurred shortly after 1 o'clock today when fifteen alleged strike-breakers were chased away from the Rankin car barns by union sympathizers. A fusillade of shots greeted the strike-breakers as they emerged from the barns.

County Detective John Engert was badly beaten by the crowd at the entrance to the barns. Men from a nearby plant joined in the chase after the strike-breakers, running them over a mile.

Four alleged strike-breakers were badly beaten during the trouble and a number of shots were exchanged.

The police reserves were called out but the mob had dispersed before they arrived.

Mayor May Act
A long conference between Mayor Magee, who threatens to use his plenary powers to end the strike, and the executive strike committee of the motor-men and the conductors adjourned today with the strike situation unsolved.

The union men are reported to have agreed to all of the Mayor's suggestions for an amicable adjustment of affairs with the exception of the reinstatement of discharged men, after proper hearings.

The company officials contend they are willing and anxious to adjust the matter at once, but that the union men have refused them the opportunity of arbitration.

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 28.—With business paralyzed to a partial extent through inadequate police service, Greater Pittsburg entered today into the second day of its street car strike.

Rioting, it is feared will follow any attempt of the car company to operate its cars.

The outlying barns have taken the attention of the authorities from the downtown districts. Special deputy sheriffs and extra police remained on duty all night at these points.

The feeling of the union men and their sympathizers is evidenced by the fact that late last night a crowd of more than five hundred persons gathered within half an hour in the Teron Hill barns on rumor that the car company would endeavor to take out a car. The police dispersed the gathering.

Saloons Remain Open
The saloons remained open today. Director of the Department of Public Safety John Morin stated he saw no reason to close orderly places until the situation became more tense.

The entire police force of Greater Pittsburg is being held in reserve at its precinct stations. The equipages hauled the office employees of downtown Pittsburg to work today. Many large concerns have already engaged rooms for their clerical forces at downtown hotels.

The grievances of the union men include the charges of discrimination against union employees, demands for hearings for discharged men; longer lunch time; installation of bulletin boards in car barns; announcing of lay-offs and shorter runs.

Negotiations Declared Off
Following three joint conferences yesterday afternoon and last night between officials of the Greater Pittsburg Railway Company and National Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees and the

RUSSIAN SPY METHODS OF RUDOLPH SPRECKELS AROUSES THE CITIZENS OF SAN FRANCISCO

HOW PHELAN AND SPRECKELS BAITED A TRAP FOR VOTERS

The paragraph of the letter that, with straw ballots, was mailed to 75,000 electors, and which contains the little joker that is expected to inveigle the citizen into an incautious anonymous expression of his sentiments and views, without informing him of the identification marks concealed under the stamp on the return envelope, and which may lead to his disqualification as a trial juror, is as follows:

"The committee urges you to sign your name, thus enrolling yourself definitely on the side of the primary law; but, if for any personal or business reasons, you do not desire to give your name, it will not be necessary to sign the ballot. Express your choice, designate the precinct and district in which you reside, and mail the ballot to this committee."

Private Stamp Primary of Good Government League Exposed and Organization Blows Up Like Toy Balloon

SAN FRANCISCO, June 28.—The exposure of the Russian spy methods of doing politics and sizing up jury panels by the so-called graft prosecution fostered by Rudolph Spreckels and James D. Phelan, and to further the political ambitions of the latter, and of Francis J. Heney, which have been adopted by the Good Government League and the Francis J. Heney Club, has aroused the interest popular disgust and indignation. Since the spy primary programme, instituted under the auspices of the two political organizations named was revealed, the eyes of thousands of citizens which were before closed have been opened to the real purposes of the graft prosecution, namely, to control the administration of justice and of the municipality's affairs to suit the ends of those who have been most conspicuously identified with it.

The Good Government League instituted a private primary to each of the 75,000 registered electors in the city to indicate by straw vote, through the return of the so-called "People's Ballot," their choice of three candidates named thereon—James D. Phelan, Thomas Magee and Walter MacArthur—by mailing it in the stamped envelope addressed to the league headquarters in the Lick building. In the circular letter inviting the straw vote, the voter was informed that if for business or other reasons he did not desire to reveal his identity it was unnecessary for him to sign the returned ballot. The Heney Club's circular was a request to the citizen to whom it was addressed to join the organization. The stamped envelope enclosed for reply in both cases were secretly marked, under the cover of the postage stamp with the number of the precinct, the voting number and the initial of the voter. These cabalistic figures and letters were intended to identify him politically and as a trial juror to the graft prosecution. It was in reality a decoy to induce citizens to give their opinions of persons, matters and methods, civic and political, which have occupied the attention of the community to the exclusion of almost everything else during the past three years. When the trick was exposed it naturally aroused popular disgust and resentment. But it has been the universal subject of popular discussion during the past two days and the question asked by everyone is, "Have you torn the stamp off yet?" As a direct result of the discreditable spy system thus attempted to be put into effect, the indications are strong that political and civic organizations that have posed heretofore as arbiters of public morals under the Spreckels-Phelan-Heney-Burns wild, will be rent in twain and absolutely discredited henceforth. It is the natural outcome of the exposure of a political dodge whose object is to deceive voters into aiding and abetting the ambitions and purposes of unscrupulous men to continue to dominate the civic and political affairs of the community.

The identification figures and letters concealed under the postage stamps on the return envelopes used in the Spreckels-Phelan-Burns trick primary are taken from the precinct registers. For example, the concealed device, "103-5-B," means that the elector returning the envelope lives in precinct 103, that the number of his affidavit of registration is 5, and his name begins with B. The register of voters itself is made the index or reference book by which the Spreckels contingent in the Good Government League ascertain the names of those who mail straw ballots to them. By turning to the precinct registers the staff of political agents employed at the headquarters in the Lick building can at once ascertain the name, residence, occupation and political affiliation of the citizen returning the straw ballot or the membership card of the Heney Club, even though he does not sign his name.

Something Wrong

That there was something wrong with the straw ballot process which the reactionary syndicate was employing was indicated by the fact that they used a government stamped envelope to incite circular, ballot and return envelope, while the latter bore a two-cent stamp of the variety ordinarily used and which was pasted over the lead pencil markings that were intended to encompass the voters' identification. The government envelope, with its stamp, costs less than do those upon which the two-cent stamps have to be placed by hand, to say nothing of the saving in the cost of labor required to place the stamps on the envelopes. But government stamped envelopes do not permit of the writing of decoy identification marks under the stamp.

Isidor Jacobs, a member of the executive committee and also of the campaign committee of the Good Government League, when asked if that organization induced the political trick of placing numbers under postage stamps to snare the electors, said:

"We thought it would be a good thing. When we held a postal primary last year we received some insulting and nasty replies, so we decided that it would be well to be in a position to identify the authors of such communications."

"We commenced mailing the straw ballots and circulars last Thursday and by Friday night had sent out 53,000 of them. Today we sent out 15,000 more, making a total of 75,000. We have already received 5000 replies, but have expression of opinion that would disqualify him from acting on a trial jury by cabalistic signs hidden under postage stamps. The gummed stamp was thus brought into partnership with the gumshoe.

Those on Committee

The executive committee of the Good Government League is composed of Frank W. Marvin, president; Samuel W. Backus, Edgar A. Mathews, Isidor Jacobs, John W. Sweeney, Edward L. Baldwin, Joseph E. Cutten, Rudolph Spreckels, C. N. Lathrop, George Renner, Frank W. Gale, George Uhl, R. H. Gurnette and L. C. McAfee. George Baker Anderson is its secretary and Milton T. U'ren its attorney.

The campaign committee is composed of Backus, Lathrop, Uhl, Mathews, Jacobs, Sweeney and U'ren. The members of this committee who took an active part in the spy primary, according to a circular issued Saturday, were Jacobs, Mathews, Backus, U'ren and Sweeney.

When criticized by their associates for endeavoring to do tricky politics by means of the "stamp act," Jacobs and some of those participating with him in the trick claimed that they were not putting forward any candidates, but merely suggesting them to the voters, and consequently had not violated the instructions of the executive committee that the campaign body take no part in the primary.

The storm of discrediting protest became so great that the campaign committee yesterday issued an apologetic explanatory circular, from which the following are extracts:

Issues Apology

"The campaign committee has not and will not nominate any one at present, the postal ballot being for the purpose of ascertaining the people's wishes in regard to nominations. After the ballots are counted and the result known, the committee will then begin organizing an auxiliary committee in each precinct of the city:

"The campaign committee of the league responsible for this postal ballot, and which is authorized by the executive committee to conduct the campaign; Isidor Jacobs, president of the California Canners Company; Edgar A. Mathews, architect; General Samuel W. Backus, president Western Expanded Metal Company; Milton T. U'ren, attorney at law; and John W. Sweeney, formerly president of the San Francisco Labor Council."

Isidor Jacobs stated that the foregoing members of the campaign committee had signed the declarations contained in the circular they had issued. Jacobs was at the Good Government League headquarters yesterday in conference with Rudolph Spreckels and Secretary Anderson. The latter two left and went to the private primary headquarters, where the work of getting out the decoy ballots has been in progress for several days.

Spreckels Is Busy

VISITORS TO THE TRICK POLITICAL BUREAU DURING THE PAST FEW DAYS HAVE TOLD OF SEEING RUDOLPH SPRECKELS WITH HIS COAT OFF AND IN HIS SHIRT SLEEVES, BUSILY ENGAGED IN ASSISTING A STAFF OF EMPLOYEES IN GETTING THE CIRCULARS, "PEOPLE'S BALLOTS," AND RETURN ENVELOPES, WITH IDENTIFICATION MARKS CONCEALED UNDER THE POSTAGE STAMPS, READY FOR THE MAIL.

Isidor Jacobs, referring to the status of the campaign committee, of which he seems to be the most active member, said yesterday that this committee had full power to do everything pertaining to the campaign except name and recommend a ticket of candidates for municipal office.

On the other hand, members of the executive committee not endorsing the spy primary of Spreckels and Jacobs declared that under the resolutions of the league the campaign committee simply had authority on the same lines as other campaign committees, to attend to ordinary routine matters during the canvass.

All important questions, including the endorsing of candidates, were to be referred back to the executive body. One of the members of the executive committee said:

"THERE ARE NAMES ON THAT DECOY DUCK OF A TICKET THAT I MOST CERTAINLY WOULD NOT AND COULD NOT INDOSE. TWO OR THREE MEN SEEM TO HAVE SECRETLY PUT THROUGH THIS JOB, AND WHEN CHARGED WITH IT THEY ADMIT WHAT THEY DID, AND CLAIM THAT CONDITIONS ARE SUCH THAT THEY COULD NOT

SPRECKELS' VIEW OF J. D. PHELAN

John D. Jr. Expresses Opinion Without Reserve; What Father Says

SAN FRANCISCO, June 28.—John D. Spreckels Jr. was interviewed in San Rafael yesterday and his father at Coronado relative to the candidacy of James D. Phelan for Mayor, John D. Spreckels Jr. said:

"I am satisfied that the article in this morning's Call was without my father's knowledge."

"What the Call's article said this morning meets with my views. I don't believe that my father knew anything of the article before its publication and if what is stated therein is true then he will certainly not go back on it or support men of that caliber."

To the question asked whether or not the Call had been loyal and favorable to Phelan in the past Spreckels said that as his memory served him he remembers that the Call had an article once charging James D. Phelan with a felony and if he got his just punishment he would be wearing stripes in San Quentin and this is also my own opinion in every respect" added Spreckels.

Must Be Wise

"Inasmuch as Rudolph Spreckels' private secretary was present in the room where the postage stamps were doctored—according to the Call's own story—it seems to me that my uncle could not have been wholly unaware what was going on in Phelan's political headquarters."

"I can state positively that the Call will not support any particular person or organization whose aims are not dictated by unselfish intentions and I am quite satisfied that the Call will certainly not support Phelan for Mayor had it ever thought of doing so. Personally I can say that he will never get my vote or endorsement."

"I am certain and positive that my father will stand behind everything the Call's story of this morning stated, or implied, to the fullest limit."

"As long as the graft prosecution acts honorably and carries out its intentions the Call will stand behind it, when it goes beyond its province, however, and becomes a political tool, I hardly believe that my father will give it his support in that endeavor."

"The exposure by the papers of Phelan's postage stamp methods will certainly knock the bottom out of the Good Government League, and if it does not it ought to."

When asked if it were true that further dictating the paper's policy regarding the pro-graft prosecution would be changed, Spreckels replied: "Well, I don't know that, but whatever it may be, I know that the managing editor is working under my father's instructions and the article of this morning is most assuredly not an accident."

What Spreckels Says

LOS ANGELES, June 27.—(Special).—J. D. Spreckels when seen at his home in Coronado last night regarding the report that his paper the San Francisco Call had attacked James D. Phelan and turned a political somersault said: "I know nothing of the attack referred to, and as to the reason, if any, I think it would concern no one other than the management of the Call. Further than this, I have nothing to say."

Mr. Spreckels appeared to be much concerned regarding the report and asked that the inquiry be read to him a second time.

TRUST ANY OF THE MEMBERS OF THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE BUT THEMSELVES.

Have Great Sport

Some of the political wags of the town, as soon as they discovered the key to the marks under the postage stamps, proceeded to have some fun with the spy primary. They looked up the registration numbers of some of the leading citizens and substituting them for the figures under the stamps on the decoy envelopes, have written expression to some of their private thoughts in vigorous, if not classic language, and mailed them to the Good Government League and the Heney Club. When these "leading citizens" are identified by the signs placed on the envelopes, at the headquarters of the reactionaries, there will probably be surprise, if not consternation at their sentiments, as they will surely be disqualified from acting on any trial jury in which the promoters of the private primary are interested.

Object to Politics

Some of the members of the Municipal League of Independent Republican Clubs do not look with favor upon the course of Spreckels in trotting out James D. Phelan, a Democrat, for Mayor. But a few days back Spreckels was endeavoring to force a political slate on the convention of this league and now he is making a canvass for a Democrat for Mayor.

The old-time members of the League of Independents do not take Phelan seriously as a candidate, regarding him merely as a Spreckels puppet in a game of political trickery. They have evolved an idea that Daniel A. Ryan is the preferred candidate of Spreckels and declare that the letter has a band of

NOT IN FAVOR OF SPY SYSTEM

The following letter, written by W. C. Graves, former district attorney of San Francisco, has been sent to the press:

"I have examined the stamps upon the envelopes set me by the Good Government League and the Francis J. Heney Club, and I find marks of identification concealed beneath each stamp, and I desire, through your columns to express my indignation and my protest, as a fair-minded American citizen against any such infamous Russian spy system. The concealment of the mark beneath the stamp indicates a sinister purpose."

Liable to Abuse

"I have upheld and supported the prosecution though I have not approved of all its methods. While I recognized the fact that $200,000 could be used for a bad as well as a good purpose and was a dangerous precedent, for it assumed control of our city government, and dictated its policy, yet I approved and commended its use, because the necessities of the situation seem to require it, but arbitrary power is always liable to abuse, and through the exercise of that power the prosecution has drifted into extremes. It seems now bent upon securing convictions outside the forms of law."

Filled With Errors

"In its overzealous efforts it fills the record with errors, and then condemns the Appellate and Supreme Courts because those courts, in the performance of their solemn duties, under their oath, reverse for the errors of law. Such prosecutions will do more harm than good to our community."

"Every man, whether he be high or low, rich or poor, is entitled to a fair-minded and unprejudiced jury, and to be tried according to the forms of law, and there should not exist even a suspicion of personal malice or ill will against any defendant on trial for his life or his liberty, for if it does exist he will enter the jury box and defeat the ends of justice."

Stormy Times

"I have twice passed through stormy times, once as assistant district attorney and once as special district attorney, and I know something of the crimes and outrages that are sometimes committed in the name of law and justice and under the cloak of good government and good citizenship. I know that all the officers elected by the Workingmen's party while I was assistant district attorney were indicted by the grand jury, under the pressure of public clamor, without any legal evidence of guilt, and honest John P. Dunn was actually indicted for the performance of his duty as an auditor of this city and county and I see evidence of some of the same kind of work."

Reason for Letter

"I write this for the reason that I desire that the Good Government League as well as the Francis J. Heney Club may know just where I stand and what my sentiments are, and that if the prosecution is conducted without personal malice and ill will toward defendants and within the forms prescribed by law the prosecution will receive my support and the support of every good citizen. Yours truly, W. C. GRAVES."

private detectives out endeavoring to work up a sentiment for Ryan.

The announcement contained on the decoy ballots and accompanying circulars that all the straw votes must be returned before 6 p. m. next Tuesday is regarded by the Municipal League as simply a scheme on the part of Spreckels and Burns to hold up the league convention next Tuesday night, to which time it adjourned.

The stamp trick seems to have widened the already existing breach in the Municipal League of Independent Republican Clubs between Spreckels, Burns & Co. and the old guard of the league. It was predicted yesterday that this breach could never be closed, as the old-timers could not stultify themselves by committing their organization to this game of tricky politics.

At an informal meeting of the advisory committee of the Municipal League, held at headquarters in the Mills building Saturday afternoon, the decoy primary was discussed at some length. Among the candidates for Mayor considered at this meeting were Thomas E. Havens, Thomas Magee and Daniel A. Ryan. Havens appeared to be in favor of the conference, largely because of affiliation with Spreckels. Ryan is said to be willing to play the part of candidate for Mayor, if Spreckels will guarantee his campaign and living expenses during the canvass. Magee, who represents large realty interests, has not yet made public any expression in regard to his attitude in connection with the recent political development, or whether he is a candidate for Mayor or not.

At the next meeting of the Municipal League convention the Spreckels and the anti-Spreckels lines may be so clearly drawn that there will be a split in the assembly and possibly a walkout.

Will Kill League

George Uhl, a member of the executive committee of the Good Government League and one of the leading spirits in the organization, expressed considerable surprise, tempered with mild indignation, when he was asked to discuss the straw ballots with the numbers secreted under the postage stamp. "THIS WILL KILL THE GOOD GOVERNMENT LEAGUE," HE DECLARED, ADDING:

"It was done entirely without my knowledge although I am a member of the campaign committee. I am at a loss to know who is responsible. I think it must have been Isidor Jacobs. "We have too many novices in politics. It seems to me now that we have made a great mistake in letting the people know that we are at sea in looking for a Mayor. They will lose confidence in us. We have put up two men and they have declined. Then we put up Center and took him down again, and now, if we do name a man, the people will say that he was the only one we could get. There was a time when the endorsement of the Good Government League would have meant something, but after all this vacillating and shifting about the people have lost confidence in us."

"PERSONALLY, I AM IN FAVOR OF TAKING A MAN AS FAR AWAY FROM THE SPRECKELS CROWD AS POSSIBLE. WE HAVE CERTAINLY COMBED THIS PART OF THE CITY WITH A FINE-TOOTH COMB AND WE HAVEN'T FOUND A MAYOR."

Regarding Heney

"I was talking with General Backus on Monday, and we agreed that it would be better to run Heney for District Attorney separately. Put his name on a separate part of the ballot and let him go to the people on his own issue."

"We have concluded that it might hurt the chances of any man running for Mayor to have Heney's name on the same ticket. That is, it would then be known as a 'prosecution ticket.' And after all these trials and the fact being known that some people were putting up money, there is a good deal of feeling, and we have concluded that it will be better for Heney to go to the people alone. I am one of the three members of his campaign finance committee."

"It is too bad that we did not go to the people at the outset with a strong candidate, and that we have spoiled our position by all this vacillating. We have too many amateur politicians. We ought to have some one here who could get us all together."

At first Uhl was inclined to look upon the secret numbers under cover of the postage stamp as "a good business move," but when it was pointed out to him that the text of the letter contained a statement that:

"If for any personal or business reasons you do not desire to give your name it will not be necessary for you to sign the ballot," Uhl expressed surprise and said:

"WELL, I WOULDN'T WANT ANYONE TO SEND ME THAT KIND OF A LETTER, WITH A SECRET MARK UNDER THE STAMP. IT IS A PROMISE THAT THE MAN WHO RETURNS IT NEED NOT GIVE HIS NAME, WHILE AT THE SAME TIME THE INFORMATION IS UNDER THE STAMP, THAT LOOKS LIKE A SUBTERFUGE TO ME. THIS WILL KILL THE GOOD GOVERNMENT LEAGUE."

"I was talking with Joe Cutten this afternoon, who is also a member of the committee. He was more indignant than I, and he, too, knew nothing about the letters being sent out until he saw it in the papers. Frank Marvin couldn't have known anything about it, either, for he was away in Fresno."

"It certainly was a mistake to have done it at this time anyway."

Plot for Phelan

There was a report abroad yesterday that part of the Spreckels-Jacob programme was to have the anti-McNab Democrats nominate Phelan, and that the McNab Democrats would endorse him. Prominent members of that wing of the party say that the regulars or McNab faction, as they are called by the opposition, will not endorse Phelan, but that the great majority of the leaders are in favor of the candidacy of Dr. T. W. B. Leland. They say that his petitions have been printed already and are awaiting the decision of the Supreme Court as to the validity of the primary election law before sending them out for signatures.

A committee of Democrats headed by Dr. John Galloway is working for his nomination, and claims that it has secured the support of the majority of the County Committee. It has been an open secret that Gavin McNab himself is favorable to Leland's candidacy above that of any man whose name has yet been mentioned or that is likely to be mentioned.

It looks as though the Good Government League was about to fly into pieces by the force of its own centrifugal motion, the center being Spreckels. The exposure of the postal primary did not keep Manager George Baker Anderson away from his desk in the Realty Building, although he was forced to keep a solitary vigil while he looked over the affairs of the Reform League. There were no callers at his office during the day, and although he had at hand a basket full of replies to his circular calling upon the electorate to make a choice of three tentative nominees, he did not as much as peek into one of them.

The chief concern of the league at present seems to be in assuring those who happened to express their sentiments before the trick was exposed, that they will not take advantage of the information that has been placed in their hands to humiliate any other victims.

What Is Claimed

"We want it understood," said Anderson last night, "that we never purposed using the replies sent in response to our circular to embarrass any one. We were simply trying to get an expression from the people as to their choice for Mayor, so that we could be guided by the verdict of the people. Our aim has been misconstrued, and we are anxious that the people should be made to understand."

While the disclaimer are coming thick and fast it was practically admitted yesterday that the purpose of the postal primary was to ascertain whether it would be safe to launch the candidacy of Phelan for Mayor. "The three names placed on the 'people's ballot' were chosen a fortnight ago at a meeting of the executive committee. Phelan was the man whose strength was to be tested and the others, MacArthur and Magee, were placed upon the ballot in the role of pawns. With one a representative of the commercial interests and the other an ultra-labor enthusiast, the problem of estimating Phelan's strength would have been easy of solution."

The plan was undertaken with the consent of the former Mayor and with his endorsement, although one of the committee will admit just who is responsible for invoking the time-worn trick of marking for identification the return envelope.

Names Phelan

James W. Sweeney, a member of the executive committee and also of the campaign committee, was first to suggest the name of the former Mayor. What understanding he had with Phelan is not known, but the suggestion seemed to meet with approval, and before the ballots were prepared Phelan gave his assent. Rev. Mr. Lathrop thought of the name of Magee, and to offset the two Sweeney thought of MacArthur. It is also understood that all three gave their consent to the use of their names for the purpose of the test.

Just how many replies were forwarded before the expose came cannot be estimated. Its effect, however, was to cut them off sharply, and those that received the circulars amused themselves yesterday by tearing off the stamps and scrutinizing the hidden figures by which antagonists to the Phelan boom were to be exposed.

Sullivan Hears It

Francis J. Sullivan, who is himself a candidate for the Mayorality on the Union Labor ticket, received his hatred, yesterday. Having read of what was being done by Isidor and Rudolph, he carefully took off the 2-cent stamp and found written in pencil underneath the stamp the characters "320-21-S."

"I heard of this scheme to put up Phelan several months ago," said Mr. Sullivan yesterday. "I proposed that we should have a primary election, and that he was to be nominated by the anti-McNab Democrats. Then it was hoped to procure his endorsement by the McNab Democrats. Then the Good Government League was to endorse Phelan and that would complete the happy family. They think that Phelan could beat McCarthy with these endorsements. So far as Phelan's candidacy is concerned they might as well elect Rudolph Spreckels, for it will be about the same thing. It is well known that no man can do a Spreckels man unless he is owned body, soul and breeches."

Magee Disqualified

It has developed that Spreckels and Jacobs knew that Thomas Magee was not eligible to be a candidate for Mayor, because he is a resident of Fruitvale, as that is his address given in the 1928 directory. The city charter provides that the Mayor must be 31 years of age and have been such for at least five years immediately preceding his election. Mr. Magee is thirty-one years of age, but has never been a resident of the city and county of San Francisco, and has never been asked to be made a candidate, but on the contrary has declined all overtures that have been made to him. Walter MacArthur, the other bit of bait on the lower hook, has time and again declined positively to allow his name to be used for any elective office and this also was known to Spreckels and Jacobs, or should have been known, for it was published in the papers. Hence the inference is justified that the ballots were sent out as a feeler, preliminary to placing James D. Phelan in nomination as the standard-bearer of the league.

LOSES POSITION AND ENDS LIFE

Despondent Mother, Discharged After 16 Years, Drinks Carbolic Acid

Losing her position after sixteen years of faithful service, Mrs. Christina Brown, aged 63 years, of 1431 East Tenth street, committed suicide yesterday afternoon following a hopeless conference with her daughter about ways and means for providing food for the family of five. She took carbolic acid.

The woman lost her position at the cotton mills because she was forced to stay at home for two weeks and take care of her daughter, Mrs. Eliza Stuart, who was ill. On her return to the shops ten weeks ago, she was told that there was no work for her.

Day after day she went to the offices of Superintendent William Rutherford and Foreman John McDougall and begged to be reinstated. Her old place was "spoiled," a place which she had occupied almost continuously for more than sixteen years. Each time she was turned away.

Frank Stuart, her son-in-law, got into trouble with the Southern Pacific and was sent to jail for petty thefts from the freight cars in the yards. The oldest daughter of the Stuart family was discharged from the cotton mills where she was employed as an "operator."

The mother and daughter family gradually declined to but a few cents and yesterday, when the mother and daughter talked over their extremity and wondered where they would get the money to feed the five children of the Stuart family as well as themselves, the older woman declared her intention of abandoning the fight and of ending her life.

SLEUTH CHIEF IS SHADOWING A COW

Captain Petersen Disguises Himself in Effort to Learn Who Milks Her

At last Captain of Detectives Petersen feels he has a case worthy his prowess. The great mystery is: Who has been milking Mrs. Hager's cow? The question has been a puzzling one for police officers for some days until last night Petersen disguised himself by pulling his hat down over his eyes and—has succeeded in attaching suspicion to two young bachelors who live near Mrs. Hager, and are the proud owners of a cow.

When Mrs. Hager milks the cow at night she brings home a generous supply of milk. When she attempts the same ceremony at dawn there is a woeful emptiness in her little tin pail. Mrs. Hager at first thought the cow was hiding its milk, but a talk with Petersen convinced her her suspicions were groundless and that the cow was not to blame.

Then, directed by the arm of the law, Mrs. Hager sent her cow to the neighborhood and who on a dog and a cat that have been waxing fat on milk. When the men are away from home the cow is milked by her milk supply at dawn, but when the men are at home as is usually the case, there is no milk in the morning.

9 BOYS IN JAIL FOR BURGLARIES

Youthful Gang, All Under 14, Charged With Long List of Crimes

The police have in custody nine boys, all under the age of fourteen years, charged with a series of burglaries, including petty thefts from drug stores in Oakland and San Francisco. Six of the boys were arrested Saturday night and three Sunday. These in custody are: Angelo Raccone, Joseph Fontana, Attilio, Alessandro, Richard, and Ernest Brown, Carl Mize, Albert White, Bryan Mills, and Horace Dawson.

The juveniles had been at their tricks for about three weeks. They will be placed in charge of the probation officer.

TREE BARKED TO CAT IN STOMACH

That's Why August Creamer Defaced De Fremery Park Property

August Creamer, who resides on Fifteenth street, near Jefferson, was arrested yesterday for defacing trees in De Fremery Park.

When asked by Acting Police Judge Quinn this morning why he did it, he said: "There was a dog-bark in the tree and I had a cat in my stomach. I wanted to let the dog bark to catch the cat. That is why I did the bark."

He repeated this explanation several times, so Judge Quinn put the case over until tomorrow morning to have the prisoner's sanity examined into.

Resignation of President Reyes Was a Surprise

Gen. Rafael Reyes.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—The understanding here is that General Rafael Reyes, who recently resigned the presidency of the Republic of Colombia and sailed for England, simply grew weary of the duties of the president. The news is surprising, as there had been no indication in the cables from Bogota that Reyes intended to give up the presidency. Last March there was a political crisis in Bogota and on the thirtieth of the month President Reyes resigned. The next day he resumed office. At that time he was determined to leave the country and go as far as the coast.

President Reyes has been bothered by the opposition for some months and in many ways. A few months ago the three-cornered struggle between the United States, Panama and Colombia was up for consideration and failed of ratification, to the disgust of the president. The matter of treaty was left until the congressional elections, which took place a few days ago. The government was barely successful in carrying the country.

Mrs. James B. Hume, president of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, will address the Ladies' Missionary Society, of the First Presbyterian church, in the chapel of the church at 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon, July 1.

She has chosen for the theme of her talk "The Mountaineers," and will speak of the work being accomplished by religious workers in the wilder countries where civilization is, in many instances, extremely remote.

Following Mrs. Hume's talk Miss McGraw, who has for many years been prominently identified in missionary work in the north, will speak on conditions governing the life and spiritual welfare of the Indians.

CAUSES ARREST OF WIFE'S AFFINITY

Sensation in Marital Complication Is Sprung by Aggrieved Husband

SAN FRANCISCO, June 28.—Charles H. Briggs, a car dispatcher in the employ of the United Railroads, whose marital troubles are being aired in Judge Morgan's court, yesterday obtained a warrant for the arrest of Evan MacLennan, his wife's affinity, on a charge of disturbing the peace. The bail has been fixed at $100.

Biggs' home is at 615 Mount Vernon avenue, near the car barns. Friday he saw his wife and her affinity enter the house. He did not relish the idea of MacLennan so boldly entering his domicile, and went to the house to order MacLennan out. He rang the bell, but there was no answer, and going to the rear, his wife and her affinity made faces at him out of the window.

Biggs finally obtained an entrance and ordered MacLennan to leave, but he refused and dared Biggs to put him out. Biggs attempted the job, but his wife, who is a powerful woman, came to her affinity's assistance and Biggs was thrown out of the window.

BAPTISTS QUESTION CHICAGO CURRICULUM

CHICAGO, June 28.—An echo of the dropping of Professor George Burman Foster from the Baptist Ministers' Conference in Chicago was heard at the meeting of the conference today when Dr. Johnstone Myers offered a resolution of disapproval of a committee to investigate allegations that teachings in the University of Chicago are not according to the Baptist faith. The motion was withdrawn at the instance of Dr. John A. Baskie, who said it might embarrass the conference if the resolution failed to carry.

DELIVERS SERMON ON JOAN OF ARC

Father Yorke Likens Maid's Trial to Graft Cases in San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, June 28.—Rev. Peter C. Yorke delivered the panegyric on the saintly character of Joan of Arc at the evening services in the church of Notre Dame des Victoires. He reviewed the historical features of her mission and said that the trials which ended with her burning at the stake were political rather than religious.

Politicians, he said, exist in every age, and they were not absent in the fifteenth century, nor in France during the days of the maiden warrior of Orleans. The English, he said, were doing politics when they trumped up the charge of heresy against the young woman, whom Rome has since beatified.

Likened to Graft Trials

The speaker found an analogous condition in the present local political turmoil. The graft trials now going on in this city furnish, the speaker said, a parallel to the trial of Notre Dame des Victoires in the fifteenth century.

Father Yorke also took occasion to refute the statement of Dr. Jordan of Leland Stanford University that France is a decadent nation. England, Germany and Sweden, he said, had left the fold of the Catholic church, while France had remained with the church of Rome. A nation with so many celebrated churchmen and distinguished laymen in the faith could not be called decadent.

Church Is Crowded

Father Yorke's address proceeded the exposition of the blessed sacrament. As in the morning service the temporary chapel of the church of Notre Dame des Victoires, the French church, was all too small for those who wished to follow the service. Very Rev. J. J. Prondogist, vicar general of the archdiocese, presided. He was assisted by Rev. Patrick Cummings, chancellor of the diocese; Rev. Joseph McQuinn, pastor of Sacred Heart church; Very Rev. Henry Trivelpiece, president of St. Patrick's Seminary, Menlo Park, and Rev. Francis McCarthy, besides the regular clergy of the French church.

WANDERLUST TOO MUCH FOR HIM

Just Couldn't Stay at Home, so Wife Secures Divorce From Him

Cedric Mann secured a final decree of divorce in the Superior Court this morning from Frederick S. Mann, on the ground of desertion. Mann is a locomotive engineer and formerly worked for the Southern Pacific Company. He had a wandering disposition, according to the testimony in the case, and whenever wanderlust seized him he would have to throw up his job and everything else and go.

Once he deserted his wife and went away. He wrote to her telling her that he couldn't resist the temptation to go and asked to be taken back. She told him to return and even went half way to meet him on his journey. Things ran smoothly for some time, but finally the old mania for going back seized him and he disappeared. Mrs. Mann waited and heard from him, as she had before, but this time he failed to write. She located him in Mexico through the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and went down to see him. He said he was still in love with her, but she was not to be deceived. He was still in love with her, but she was not to be deceived. He was still in love with her, but she was not to be deceived.

Finally giving up the search in despair, she returned and brought her suit for divorce. Whether Mann is still alive or dead she knows not, but she does know that if he is yet in the land of the living he is trying to appear in court to evade the law.

VON BUELOW WILL RETIRE SHORTLY

Chancellor Says He Will Quit Office After Finance Reform Bill Passes

BERLIN, June 28.—Prince Von Buelow authorized the announcement that he intends to retire from the chancellorship of the Empire in any event as soon as the pending finance reform measure is disposed of in one way or another. The Prince remains in office only temporarily, in an endeavor to pass the bill.

The semi-official Norddeutscher Allgemeine Zeitung, commenting today on the current reports published, tending to weaken the significance of Chancellor von Buelow's statement, says: "Prince von Buelow bequeathed the Empire to posterity to go at once, by his Majesty, in the warmest terms, expressed a wish that the Prince remain in office until the finance reform bill had been put through the Reichstag."

Emperor William has not considered the question of a successor to Chancellor von Buelow. The most probable choice, however, is Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, former secretary of State of the Interior and Vice-Chancellor. He is an able parliamentarian, but has never had anything to do with foreign affairs. The Emperor may also consider Baron Marschal von Blerstein, the Ambassador at Constantinople, for the office.

Among the other possibilities are Baron von Reichenbach, General von Lowenfeld and General von Wedel.

Small Boys Suspected Committing Burglary
SAN FRANCISCO, June 28.—Three small boys, the oldest of whom is more than 10 years, are believed to be responsible for the burglary of the home of Julius Hennig, 348 Shotwell street, which was broken into yesterday.

Mrs. Hennig has seen the boys acting suspiciously in the neighborhood, and she thinks they forced open a front window and searched the house while the family were out of town for the day. $25 in cash and greenbacks was the only thing taken.

SUPERVISORS PASS UPON DIVERSITY OF BUSINESS

Routine Occupies Attention of the Board

The Board of Supervisors worked steadily for two hours this morning and disposed of one of the largest items of public business which has been transacted by it for a long time.

The applications of Joseph Amaral of Alvarado and G. G. Clark of Midway for saloon licenses were referred to the license committee.

Permits to sell liquor were granted to G. Lazzarini, Newark; John Deloy, Melrose; Andrew Johnson, Russell Station and S. Hansen, Centerville.

A communication was received from the Melrose fire commissioners, to the effect that the fire department of that section would need $2000 this year to maintain its organization, and that they desired that amount to be provided for in the coming tax levy. Filed.

The clerk announced that a permanent protest against the selling of liquor in public places, Precinct No. 1 had been received. It was filed.

A resolution was adopted, instructing the county surveyor to prepare an estimate of the cost of building a storm-water sewer at Claremont and College avenues.

Filed. The chairman of the bridge committee was authorized to expend not more than $100 in cleaning the Webster street bridge.

William Richards was appointed temporary bridge tender in the absence, on vacation, of the regular bridge tender at Webster street.

Dr. C. T. Devins was appointed temporary assistant steward at the Receiving Hospital during the vacation of Steward Travers, compensation to be $50.

Miss G. White was appointed to serve in the Receiving Hospital as matron during the absence of Mrs. Hughes, the incumbent, the salary to be $37.50.

Contract for Grading

The contract for the grading, curbing and macadamizing Fruitvale avenue, between Hopkins and Brook streets, was awarded to the Ransome-Crummey Company for $1490. The other bids were as follows: Hoare, $2141; Hutchinson Company, $1860; L. L. Kopper, $1440; and one bid for $1430.

A resolution was adopted requesting the State Board of Harbor Commissioners to remove the agricultural, horticultural and other displays, now located on the top story of the Ferry Building, in San Francisco, to the second floor of that structure, on the grounds that the attention of thousands of people passing through the building, who, however, see or hear of it. This action of the Supervisors was taken at the instance of the Progress and Prosperity Committee of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, which sent in a communication explaining the matter in a very effective manner.

Fremont Lighting District

F. A. Gordon of Melrose presented a petition signed by a large number of residents of that suburb asking for the establishment of the Fremont Lighting District. The district proposed to include what was sought to be established as the Silver Moon Lighting District and another district of the same character in that section, the purpose being to have one large district instead of two small ones.

J. A. Pinkerton of the First Presbyterian Church at Berkeley asked that the county refund to that society the sum of $1000 which he would need $250 for the maintenance of his office for a year. Filed.

The Treasurer reported that he would require $12,100 for the support of his office. Filed.

WHEEL OFF RAIL; TRAIN GOES MILE

Engineer Has Hard Time Stopping Locomotive on Down Grade

SAN FRANCISCO, June 28.—The west-bound limited passenger train on the Salt Lake line arriving here today 14 hours late, had a narrow escape from destruction on a steep grade near Caliente, Nev., when the friction burned out a journal on the tender and threw a wheel off the axle while the train was running 60 miles an hour. The engineer stopped the train with frantic efforts but not until it had run more than a mile down grade along the edge of a high embankment, tearing up ties and damaging the roadbed.

Heat Kills Two In New York

INCOME TAX LAW PROPOSED

Resolution Proposing Constitutional Amendment is Reported in Senate

WASHINGTON, June 28.—A resolution proposing an amendment to the constitution authorizing an income tax without apportionment among the States, was reported to the Senate today by Chairman Aldrich of the finance committee. Senator Borah objected to immediate consideration.

Without debate, the Senate today presented cotton bagging on the free list and agreed to the House rate of three tenths of a cent a pound on cotton. The concession on bagging was made to save the item will still have to run the gauntlet of conference.

By a majority of seven the Senate voted down an amendment to the tariff bill making cotton ties free of duty.

The Senate made a slight increase in the duty on structural iron and steel, when valued more than ten-tenths of a cent per pound. A motion by Stone to put structural iron and steel on the free list was voted down, as was a motion by Cummings to reduce the duty.

PORTER BURNED TO DEATH IN HOTEL

The proprietor's family and several guests saved themselves by jumping from the windows. One woman broke her leg. The loss was small. The fire is believed to have been of incendiary origin.

C. NELSON'S WILL LEAVES $500,000

Estate of Reputed Millionaire Lumber Man, Falls Below Rumored Amount

According to the testimony given this morning in the Probate Department of the Superior Court, in connection with the application for the probate of the will of the late Charles Nelson, the lumberman and reputed millionaire, the estate is not worth more than $500,000 and is all separate property. Nelson, the husband of Margaret Brees, a daughter of the deceased, named as executor in the will, were appointed as such by the court.

After 30 Years Asks for Parole

Thorne, who was sent to San Quentin nearly thirty years ago for complicity in the robbery of the Eureka stage on September 1, 1879, has applied to the prison directors for parole. Thorne was one of three highwaymen held responsible for the death of William Cummings, a banker of Moore's Flat, who was killed by them while defending a treasure of $20,000 in gold dust. Thorne received a life sentence.

MINERS ARE ON STRIKE.
PITTSBURGH, Pa., June 28.—All the miners in the west end of the town are on strike and about 6000 quit work today. No strike had been called but the men decided to suspend work until a decision is reached in the check-off dispute.

It is possible that a formal strike order will be issued tomorrow calling on all miners of the southwest.

A break in the ranks of the operators occurred today when two companies, the Sheridan Coal Company and the L. McCormick Coal Company, announced they would grant the demands of the miners.

BRANDENBURG DEFENSE ENDS

Lawyer Testifies to Seeing Article With Cleveland's Signature Attached

NEW YORK, June 28.—Attorneys for Broughton Brandenburg, in defending him against the charge that he had committed grand larceny by selling an alleged spurious letter of Grover Cleveland to the New York Times, placed their final witness on the stand today and closed the case for the defense. Two witnesses testified they had seen the article in written form substantially as it appeared published in the Times, before August 10, last, that is, on which a stenographer had testified she typed the article sold to the Times by the defendant. George E. Stenning, a lawyer, said he had seen the article with Grover Cleveland's signature attached on June 4, 1908. Daniel P. Lewis, Sunday editor of the New York Herald, testified he had signed the article in his possession before August 10th. On cross-examination Lewis said that the article he had was a ribbon, not a carbon copy.

Testimony Disagrees
Brandenburg testified that Cleveland had signed a carbon copy.

In rebuttal, the prosecution called Charles R. Miller, editor of the Times, who declared that Cleveland's signature in evidence was the one attached to the article when it was received by the Times.

Chas. A. Lincoln, Sunday editor of the Times, said that he himself had cut the Cleveland signature off the article Brandenburg sold the newspaper.

Francis Heise, secretary to DeLoe, of the Times, told of receiving the article back from Brandenburg. She identified the article in evidence as the one Brandenburg gave her.

LEAVES WILL OF BUT 48 WORDS
Rebecca Meyerstein Becomes Heiress $8000 in Property Without Verbosity

One of the shortest and most concise wills ever filed for probate in the Superior Court was received this morning by the County Clerk. The will of Rebecca Meyerstein, of Berkeley, California, and by it the late Rebecca Meyerstein of Berkeley, California, of an estate valued at about $8000. It is as follows:

I give everything I possess to my sisters, Ida and Fredrick Meyerstein, share and share alike, with the exception of $500, which I give to my brother, Julius Meyerstein. I appoint my sisters executors of my will, to serve without bonds.

SCORE CAPTURED IN BUCKET SHOP RAID
CINCINNATI, June 28.—County Prosecutor Hunt, who is making a campaign against alleged bucket shops, accompanied by ten deputies, today overpowered two armed watchmen and raided the offices of the Consolidated Stock and Grain Co. C. C. A. and C. B. Fox were arrested and all the books of the concern were taken and a wire cut. The men were arraigned and held to the grand jury. Twenty customers of the alleged bucket shop were held prisoners behind the locked doors of the concern for several hours in order to obtain their correct names for witnesses.

The Heney-Spreckels-Phelan Spy System.

No more remarkable exposure of sinister criminality of method was ever made than that which in San Francisco has disclosed Phelan, Spreckels and Heney in using the Good Government League and the Heney Club in a conspiracy of lying, deception and jury-fixing.

We have learned to look upon the spy system of Russia as the bad perfection of infamy, but it takes second place now.

Under the pretense of getting a straw vote for Mayor and of drumming up a membership in the Heney Club, a ballot and circular were mailed to every registered voter in the city. On the ballot was the name of Phelan for Mayor and the circular invited to membership in the Heney Club.

The outer envelope, the ordinary government envelope with the stamp printed on it, enclosed an envelope stamped with a mucilage stamp and addressed to the Good Government League, or Heney Club headquarters. The accompanying instructions to the recipient advised him: "If for any personal or business reasons you do not desire to give your name it will not be necessary to sign the ballot."

Now that was a pledge of the secrecy of the ballot or the response. It was a pledge in line with that privacy inviolable of the voter's ballot which is surrounded and safeguarded by law. It was a pledge intended to make the voter feel as secure as when he stands in the booth to prepare his ballot and cast it.

But it was a false and deceitful, a lying and criminal pledge, made in bad faith, for under the postage stamp on the return envelope were marked in pencil the precinct, registry number and initial of the voter to whom it was mailed. Thus, voter Taylor of Precinct 25, number on the precinct register 8, not liking to sign his name to the reply, and relying on the pledge of privacy, would indicate his opinion of Phelan for Mayor or of the Heney Club, and sealing the envelope, mail it to league or club headquarters. When it was received Spreckels, Phelan and Heney would steam the stamp off and under it find "25-8-T," and turning to the register of Precinct 25 would identify No. 8 as Mr. Taylor and possess themselves of his opinion, given under their pledge of secrecy.

Of course the conspirators wanted this information for the purpose of jury-packing, in the next trial of Calhoun, and found the steering connection of the Good Government League a willing and wanton instrument for that purpose.

History is full of the story of spy systems and reformers. Their use lay heavy upon old Rome, and amongst the great acts of Marcus Aurelius was their abolition. His predecessors had used them to trap the innocent, to murder the just, to rob the unwary and to spread fear and terror through the empire, to fill its dungeons and red-dens its highways with the blood of the just. When Marcus struck down that system of treachery, perjury and terror, history certified the horror of this infamy by giving imperishable honor to its destroyer.

In the bloody strife of parties and the wars of dynasties and the disturbance of governments the lives and liberties of men have been attacked by soul-searching test oaths, by torture to extort confession of crimes that were not committed, and rewards and punishments have promoted the infamous purpose of scoundrels and oppressors, but of them all none was more subtle, secret, sinister, covert and criminal than this scheme of Spreckels, Heney and Phelan to pack a perjured jury, under pretense of taking a straw vote.

To understand it one must comprehend the plan and purpose of Heney. To sustain his reputation as a head-hunter and bring him gain and fame it is necessary for him to "get" victims. If no one is guilty of offense against the law it is vital to him that crime be invented, and imputed, and furnished, though juries be packed and evidence sophisticated. By gaining and sustaining such a reputation and by such means, he is sure of employment by any rich wretch who covets his neighbor's goods and franchises. In Oregon he bled and overworked himself along these lines, infringing politics upon prosecution until the State tired of him and his methods. It is significant that in Oregon he had an able second in a man named U'Rea, a famous political reformer and professional good person, and that now on the committee of the Good Government League that sent out the spy and decoy letters appears the name of one U'Rea. It prompted the inquiry, does Heney, like a bubonic rat, carry his parasites around with him? It may not be the same U'Rea, but it has the same smell and is at the same good old job of moral reform by immoral, lying, deceptive and criminal methods.

The whole scheme is laid out and worked in the name of reform. Now genuine reform does not wear a mask and carry a dark lantern. It does not pick locks nor pockets. It does not boost virtue and sell itself to uncleanness and vice. Reform is not a sneak, but stands before all men for fair play and a square deal. But the Spreckels, Phelan and Heney idea of reform is borrowed from the code of the Black Hand and Mafia. It lives on compounded felonies, betrayed confidence, invaded privacy, spying and treachery.

Railroad Building in Alaska.

The Morgan and Guggenheim railroad, known as the Copper River and Northwestern Railroad, which is being constructed from Valdez to tap the rich Peacock copper deposits, near the headwaters of that stream, will be opened for traffic next year. J. Pierpont Morgan and the Guggenheims or American Smelting Trust, a subsidiary organization to the Standard Oil Company, are spending millions of dollars in the opening up of the Territory for settlement and the development of its resources. Primarily the object of the railroad is to reach the vast copper deposits of exceptionally high grade located about 180 miles from the seaboard on the Copper river; but the syndicate is planning also to build a branch into an extensive coal field for which it is an applicant to the Federal government for a patent. Associated with the opening of this coal field is the erection of a gigantic smelter at Valdez to reduce the ore extracted from the copper mine. The three enterprises are, therefore, inseparably interwoven.

But the syndicate's scheme of railroad construction is on a much larger scale than is represented in these three enterprises. Surveys have been made to carry the line into the very heart of the Territory south of the Yukon river with the view of tapping the Tanana Mining District, and thence extend it to the upper end of the Yukon valley to compete for the trade of the Circle City, the Klondike and a group of other rich gold-producing districts located on each side of the Alaskan and Yukon Territory boundary. The line will thus traverse ultimately nearly two thousand miles of a heavily mineralized country, opening it to prospectors. What this means to Alaska's future is practically incomprehensible now. But some idea of what it may be is indicated by the enormous volume of gold which is coming out this year from the Tanana Mining District, the season's output being estimated at over $14,000,000. But the interior of Alaska contains timber resources of incalculable value, and when opened by railroads the vast area of grazing lands which it contains will make it one of the most important sources of horned cattle supply under the sovereignty of the United States.

Muddle in the Game Laws.

The Sacramento Sunday News exposes the incorporation of a bogus law in the revision of the statutes regulating the slaughter of game which has been printed by the Fish and Game Commission and sent broadcast throughout the State for the information of lawyers, sportsmen and others interested in wild game. This revised addition of the game laws states that the open season for the killing of deer begins August 1 and ends November 1. The bill approved by Governor Gillett and bearing his signature makes the open season for deer killing begin July 1 and continue until November 1, a fact which the Secretary of State will verify. The statute published by the Game Commission as amending the open deer season never received the Governor's signature and is, therefore, ineffective.

The Sunday News makes the following explanation:

"It is very evident that the blunder occurred before it reached the hands of the Governor and it is directly traceable to a fight that was engendered in both houses over its passage. The original bill was introduced by Senator Birdsall and provided that it would be lawful to kill the antlered monarch between the 15th of August and the 15th of November. This was amended by the Senate to read from the 1st of August to the 15th of November. It passed and on arriving in the House was again amended to read from the 1st of August to the 1st of November. Again it was tinkered with to make it read from the 15th of July to the 1st of November, and it was this last amended bill that through some stupid blundering reached the Governor's hands and was approved."

"Before this, however, it was sent back in its revised form to the Senate, who refused to concur and an agreement was reached between the Houses, that the open season should be from the 1st of August until the 1st of November, but through the stupidity of some one this agreed bill was lost in the shuffle and never came to the Governor, although incorporated in the statutes and sent abroad among the public as the true bill."

According to this statement the Governor signed a bill which the Legislature had amended and which had not been regularly submitted to him for his approval. It may be that the statute is void, anyhow, owing to the disagreement between the record of the minutes of the two houses and the Governor's approval.

In its exposure of the trick attempted by the notorious James D. Phelan through the secretly numbered primary test ballot sent out in the interest of his candidacy through the Good Government League, the Call thus repudiates him: "Whatever the purpose the apparent results are more than twofold. Phelan's chances for becoming Mayor are no better than they were, which is to say that they are nil. The Good Government League will probably profit from that scheme in about the same degree as Phelan. It may even go to pieces as a result of the hidden check marks, which is a pity."

State Press

That California has become a power at Washington is the necessary inference from the action of congress in respect to the tariff on lemons. Primarily, of course, the growers of that fruit are the ones to be benefited by the increase of duty—whatever it may be when the Payne-Aldrich bill shall have been finally passed—but the people of the entire state will also rejoice because of the proof that will be afforded that this commonwealth, once almost regarded as a negligible factor in congress, is at last able to assert itself in the lawmaking body.—San Diego Union.

The Legislature has passed and the Governor has signed the anti-frat bill, and it is now the law of the State of California. One would suppose that, being now a part of the statutes, the first people to obey it would be the teachers and the respective boards of education. Certainly the people of the State of California expect their sons and their daughters to be taught obedience to the laws, and that obedience should be inculcated in the schools.—Sacramento Bee.

The "empty cradle" has shunted the "full dinner pail" clear into the wings and now occupies the center of the stage. The census enumerators will soon get in action and then the question will be: What are you going to do about it? Wait until Roosevelt returns from the jungles of Africa.—Watsonville Register.

California's wealth has only been hinted at. For sixty years the ground has been scratched over, a few mines have been sunk and great wealth has come to those who worked persistently and intelligently. Though wealth has been won, many others have gone away after the first effort proved unsuccessful or lured by hopes of greater gain. Now after Alaska, and the new Nevada discoveries have attracted their thousands, California seems about to enjoy a recurrence of the stampede of the "days of old," the days of gold.—Stockton Independent.

There comes a time in the affairs of every newspaper when it seems impossible to secure news with which to fill the columns. For a time this forenoon that condition seemed to exist in this office.—Gridley Globe.

The voting machine force is to be ended in Los Angeles county by the sale of $50,000 worth of machines now on hand. It is rather expected that the only bids received for them will come from the junk dealers.—Riverside Press.

What the San Francisco Leader Thinks of Actions of Prosecution

(From the San Francisco Leader, June 26.)

It requires no long drawn out argument to show that the two Judges, Lawlor and Dunne, are mere creatures of the prosecution. Both have about the same mental endowments and both are equally ignorant of the law. As to their character, it is hard to choose between them for the variegated cussedness of Dunne may be explained by physical causes; while there can be no physical excuse for the insensibility of Lawlor to the ordinary claims of gratitude and the fundamental detentions of civilized society.

The worst judge that ever sat in Ireland never equalled the record of Lawlor. The worst court that ever filled the tribunals of the French Revolution matched the trial of Pat Calhoun. Even Lawlor himself might have had the saving grace to be ashamed when the very jurors were compelled to protest at the way the court was acting.

Pat Calhoun had the right to a fair trial and he did not get it. The man mainly responsible is the judge. Every citizen is entitled, not only to law, but to the "due process of law." The due process of law was either unknown to Judge Lawlor or entirely disregarded in his efforts to help the prosecution.

As to Heney, the trial has simply deepened our original impression that he is merely an irresponsible blackguard. His profanity, his "So help me Gods," his vulgarity might ornament a waterfront saloon, but in a court of justice they nauseated the most hardened. He has added to his original outfit of the Tar Flat hoodlum all the vices and none of the virtues of the Arizona cowboy.

In his canvass for office he now appears in his true colors. From the very beginning we declared that the prosecution from start to finish was nothing but politics. Every one can see now that the trial of Pat Calhoun is only a political dodge. Heney will begin again with a compliant court and an unscrupulous spy to work up public opinion toward election time. We will have the temples of justice turned into political meeting houses and the infamous cry, "Put me in office and I'll put Calhoun in jail."

The people stood for that cry once and now they can see what they got. Heney then did not have the evidence to convict Pat Calhoun and he knew it. He hasn't the evidence now, and he knows it. From the beginning the prosecution was one grand bluff and we knew it. The people are beginning to see it now. The defeat of the prosecution's real estate scheme known as the "elvic center" shows how the wind is blowing. The tide has been long a-turning, but when it turns in the streets of a city it runs like a mill race.

There is no hope for peace or prosperity in San Francisco until Spreckels and Phelan and Heney and Burns are utterly and entirely repudiated. Their methods are repugnant to American ideas and popular principles. To perpetuate them would be to perpetuate the methods of Tiberius in the fallen republic of Rome, to establish methods of the Council of Ten in the corrupt oligarchy of Venice. As long as men are men there will be abuses and corruption in public and in private life. They exist in the freest Republic; they exist in the most despotic monarchy. It is the duty of the good citizen ever to strive against them and to minimize them. It is only the dream of a fool to extirpate them. What are the best methods for fighting corruption? "Many men, many minds." Of one thing, however, we are sure, that under the government of a free people there is more of a chance of getting at the evils than under a despotism. That is why we believe in a republican form of government, and that is why we believe that the methods of the spy and the informer, the methods of the irresponsible millionaire and of the purchased public official, the methods of the muckraker and the venal press, the methods of the debauched court and the partisan judge are not the methods by which American life is to be purified and American liberties made secure.

Topics, Timely and Interesting

In a warning against the great summer pest and menace—mosquitoes—the Department of Health of Philadelphia says: "Mosquitoes, as a rule, deposit their eggs in stagnant water, which hatch out with great rapidity in the form of small animals called 'wigglers,' named from the manner in which they propel themselves through the water, which, in a few days, become full-fledged mosquitoes. A sufficient number of mosquitoes to annoy an entire neighborhood can be developed from a very small quantity of water. A neglected tomato can containing water is sufficient for this purpose; therefore, watch, remove, empty or tightly cover with cheesecloth all barrels, boxes, tin cans, choked roof gutters, sewer traps or any receptacle where water can lie for a period of five days."

Quoting the dispatch published by The Jewish Morning Journal to the effect that Ahmed Riza, president of the Chamber of Deputies at Constantinople, had visited the ritual head of the Jews in Turkey, and on the part of the Turkish government extended an invitation to the Jews of Russia and Roumania to immigrate to Turkey, The American Immigrant says: "There is no reason to doubt the correctness of the statement, as it is in keeping with previous accounts of the course marked out by the Young Turks, the constitutionalists who are now in power and bid fair to remain so. The road to Zion is now open to all who wish to travel over it. Let us see how many avail themselves of the invitation."

The Rev. Edward A. Larrabee, for twenty-five years rector of the Episcopal Church of the Ascension, Chicago, and one of the leaders of the extreme high church element, has resigned to accept the deanship of Nashotah Theological Seminary. Father Larrabee will succeed Father Berry, who comes to New York to be rector of the Church of St. Mary the Virgin. Born in Chicago in 1852, Father Larrabee was graduated from Racine College and then studied theology in New York. He was ordained priest in 1877.

To persons about to take summer vacations the Chicago Health Department has issued its annual warning against the danger of contamination of water and food at summer resorts in the country. The bulletin says: "The average summer resort is poorly equipped in the way of pure water supply, and the average farmer who takes summer boarders has a surface well that is sure to be seriously polluted. Never drink water from a surface well until it has been boiled. Look carefully to the food supply—especially milk. See that it does not come in contact with flies at any time. Flies are even a greater menace in the country than they are in the city, because the sanitary arrangements are less perfect. It has been the experience of this department that many hundreds of cases of typhoid fever are brought into Chicago each summer, especially in the late summer, by people returning from their vacations."

The Sheriff of Burlington county, New Jersey, has adopted a novel method of ridding his county of tramps and incidentally saving a good sum of money for the taxpayers. Bean soup was the remedy employed for a long time. The Burlington county jail was a favorite haven for members of the "hobo" tribe, until the Sheriff began the bean soup treatment. He gave it to them at every meal, with the result that the tramps who began to see beans and talk about them in their sleep, begged for a change in the menu. The Sheriff was obdurate, however, and the result is that Burlington county has been stricken from the itinerary of all members of the "looking for work and hope I won't find it" class.

Railroad News

Governor Draper of Massachusetts drafted the "Railroad Holding Company" bill, which is to the effect that a company be financed by some railroad, and buy a controlling interest in the Boston and Maine.

At the first annual convention of the Engineers of Pennsylvania, held in Harrisburg, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company exhibited a topographical map of New York City and vicinity, being thirty feet long and showing many of the principal buildings, and tunnel lines.

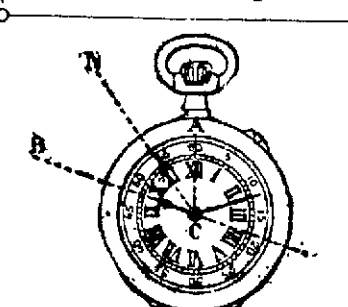

Many of the lines in Missouri have adopted the plan of charging three cents a mile, instead of the regular 24 cent rate, in cases where passengers board trains without tickets.

Statistics show that an increase of 246 per cent has resulted in the number of steeple passengers brought to New York during the first four months of this year.

Owing to the reduced rates made on export grain by the railways from Buffalo to New York, Atlantic steamships are leaving Montreal in water ballast, being unable to get the grain.

On June 8, the Missouri Pacific and the Iron Mountain made effective a 3 cent passenger rate on all lines in Missouri, except between Kansas City and St. Louis.

HOW TO USE A WATCH For a Compass

Nowadays when automobilism and cycling are universal, the necessity often arises of determining the direction of the north, either for finding one's way or for consulting a map.

There are many ways of finding the cardinal points without a compass, but nearly all give one an approximate indication. It is not easy to determine in an exact manner the direction of the north without an appropriate instrument. Here is, however, a means of arriving at that result. It is not new, but few people know it. An ordinary watch is sufficient, provided the sun is shining. It is requisite also that the watch should give the correct time.

The watch is turned until the hour hand covers its own shadow, or in other words, until the direction of the sun is situated exactly on the prolongation of the hour hand on the side opposite the point of the hand. Next bisect the angle formed by the hour hand and the radius passing through the number XII of the dial, that is, the angle A C B in the accompanying figure. The line bisecting the angle gives the direction of the north. The divisions of the dial make it very easy to divide the angle A C B into two equal parts, that is, to determine the line bisecting the angle.—La Vulgarisation Scientifique.

Singular Things

More or less credence is still given to the old belief in the sympathy of the vegetable kingdom for human suffering. "I prayed all night," writes a gardener whose employer was very sick, "and the flowers on my window sill drooped and I said to myself they were dead. But toward morning they picked up and I was sure enough the master was better. And the same thing had happened to the flowers I had sent to his bedroom. They were dying and they came to life again. And I know'd when those flowers picked up that the master was better."

This from Serbia. "The parish priest of Nish refused to perform the wedding ceremony for Peter Golubovitch and Mara Hetnar in Belgrade cathedral because the bride wore a hat instead of the traditional veil. The shops being closed, it was impossible to procure a veil, and a substitute was finally improvised from a lace curtain."

Why do doctors so often wear long hair? Perhaps this is the reason: There once was a statue in England under which actors found wandering were liable to be branded through the right ear. The long hair concealed the decoration and thus the custom was started.

About Noted People

During Gov. Rollins' administration a representative of the legislature of New Hampshire from one of the rural districts in the northern section of the state was presented to the governor for the first time. Being somewhat unfamiliar with statehouse etiquette he addressed his excellency as "Most High. The governor informed the gentleman from the rural districts that there was but one "Most High." "He who made everything from nothing." "Well, governor," replied the country legislator, "I'll give you credit for making a justice of the peace out of a man in my town that is about as near to nothing as ever walked on two legs."

Harriet Lane Johnston was a typical society woman of culture in the past. When Miss Lane lived in London with her uncle, the ambassador, an English nobleman was most attentive to her one night at a dinner. Miss Lane's hands were very beautiful. The nobleman, gently touching one of them as it lay on the cloth, quoted Gray's "Hills that tread of empire might have swung." Miss Lane's smiling retort was a completion of the couplet: "Or walked to ecstasy the living lyre."

Cresswell, afterward Sir Cresswell Cresswell, the famous English divorce lawyer, was the most pompous man. His manner once so irritated Justice Maule, before whom he was arguing, that the latter at last burst out with: "Mr. Cresswell, I wish you would remember that I am a vertebrate animal. Your manner to me would be insolence from God Almighty to a black beetle."

Twenty Years Ago in Oakland

Henry B. Lathrop of this city receives the highest honors in English literature at Harvard College. He is the fourth son of Rev. H. D. Lathrop of East Oakland.

The Children of Mary of St. Francis de Sales Church give a most pleasing entertainment in Oakland Theater. One of the features of the program is the production of the two-act drama, "Jolees, or Through the Pines of Sorrow." Two of the young women who distinguished themselves are Miss McCrum and Miss Findlay.

The council passes an ordinance establishing specifications for cement sidewalks.

The Board of Public Works is instructed by the council to construct a main lake sewer of brick on Twentieth street from the east line of Broadway to the east line of Webster street.

John A. Logan Circle, Ladies of the G. A. R., is making arrangements for the holding of a red, white and blue social on the night of July Fourth in Calvary hall. It is entertaining the State treasurer of the order, Mrs. Sarah Metcalf, and Mrs. C. E. Shirland of Sacramento.

A number of Catholic young ladies in East Oakland are considering the advisability of establishing a branch of the Young Ladies' Institute in that section of the city.

James H. Howard is making a search for his missing wife, whose abandonment of his bed and board he charges to the pernicious influence over his spouse of his mother-in-law.

Members of the council protest against the payment of George A. Villard, who is expediting the books of the city, on the ground that he is not a citizen and as a consequence, is not eligible to the position.

In the divorce suit of T. W. Fenn in San Francisco from his wife, who was a newspaper writer in this city, over the name of Sophia Search, a number of letters from an ardent admirer are read, showing that the woman had held clandestine correspondence with a youth named J. E. Flanders of Sinaloa, Mexico.

Judge Levy, presiding in the case, grants the request of the husband to be freed from the woman.

Reflections of a Bachelor

Most of the cleverness of women's life is on the outside, of men's on the inside.

Sometimes a girl will accept the judgment of her father unless it is about a man.

The reason people can have such high families is they don't know how to raise them.

A woman would rather never have had a husband than admit it was her only proposal.

Mabel McKinley's Songs Delight
Sunday Audiences at the Bell

MABEL MCKINLEY, Our American Soprano, at the Bell.

Everyone will find satisfaction in this week's bill at the Bell Theater, for without doubt it is one of the very best offerings of the season. Mabel McKinley is the hit of the bill. She has a beautiful voice, a pleasing personality, and a most hearty one and she reciprocated by rendering a generous number of pretty ballads, some of her own composition, a few classic selections and a program of intrinsic merit. She was with difficulty permitted to leave the stage, for she proved so popular with the big Sunday audiences that they clamored for more and more, even after the pretty singer had favored them with many encores.

Sharing honors with Miss McKinley are Cooke and Miss Rothert, in their original conception of the P. M. Apache dance. It derives its name from the dances of the Paris underworld, and proves to be a bewildering romp that closely resembles at intervals a Bowery gambol, but partakes of an intensity and fierceness that only a Latin, jealous and ignorant, can assume. The light-heartedness of the dance, as we understand its spirit, is not there, and the spectator sits, almost afraid, while the mad physical riot continues. In addition to the dance, Cooke does some clever work in the acrobatic line, and winds up with a good impersonation of a wildly intoxicated man. Francesca Redding and her company of two are star laughmakers in their laughable conception, "The Man From Texas." Miss Redding is a handsome woman, dresses well and gives a bright and witty interpretation of the loquacious widow who advertises for a companionable helpmeet. The act is brimful of same comical situations requiring clever and finished acting ability, the union of which work creating one of the biggest screams that has come this way this year. Salome is a thing of the past with the "shapely" Ward brothers in the field. Appearing in abbreviated kilts and a libelous display of long and lanky underpinning, these dancers prove veritable side-splitters for the full fifteen minutes.

A convulsive piece of vaudeville is embodied in "The Intruders," presented by Herbert Brenon, Helen Downing and Raymond Clure. They are three splendid artists and in the absurd situations and ridiculous developments that follow upon one another fast and furious, their little sketch will be remembered many a day for its freshness and originality. Manager Cohn has supplied the patrons of the Bell this week with one of the best bills in the history of the house, and the motion pictures which complete this sparkling program are features of decided interest.

MRS. HEINZE IN TEARS AT TRIAL

Copper King Believed to Know Where Company's Missing Books Are

NEW YORK, June 28.—Arthur P. Heinze, under suspended sentence for participation in defeating justice in the Government's inquiry into the tangled affairs of the United Copper Company, gave a new bond of $2000 Saturday to appear before Judge Ray when the latter's court convenes next fall.

At the Federal building Saturday speculation was rife as to what Judge Ray can do should Heinze not help the Grand Jury, now in session, to find the books of the corporation.

One of the conditions of the suspension of the sentence was that Heinze should do everything in his power to trace the missing books and accounts, in order that District Attorney Wins may use them in evidence in the Grand Jury investigation.

Mrs. Heinze, who sat by the side of her husband when the jury's verdict was announced Friday evening, and whose tears moved Judge Ray to pity for the convicted man, hysterically declared to District Attorney Wins:

"We would have produced the books and all the papers before this if we had known where they were."

The theory of the prosecution is that F. A. Heinze, the copper king, knows where the books are. Arthur P. Heinze's friends say that it will only be necessary for him to prove his own inability to produce them.

FAN HAS CONVULSION
AT UMPIRE'S DECISION

NEW YORK, June 28.—Wild with enthusiasm as Dan McGeehan, captain of the visiting team, in a game between Elizabeth and Allentown yesterday, hit a long drive over the left field fence, Martin McPherson fell into convulsions when the umpire called it a foul. Thinking the hit a home run, McPherson gave a yell like a maniac, and rolled from the top row of the bleachers' stand, head first to the ground, and lay there writhing. A physician at the game took McPherson in charge and had him rushed to the hospital. It is feared he will die, having burst a blood vessel.

S.S.S. PURELY VEGETABLE

The absolute vegetable purity of S. S. S. has always been one of the strongest points in its favor, and is one of the principal reasons why it is the most widely known and universally used of all blood medicines. A great many of the so-called blood purifiers are really more than strong mineral mixtures which act so unpleasantly and disagreeably on the delicate membranes and tissues of the stomach and bowels, that even if such treatment purified the blood, the condition in which the digestive system is left would often be more damaging to the health than the original trouble. Not so with S. S. S.—it is the greatest of all blood purifiers, and at the same time is an absolutely safe and harmless remedy. It is made of the healing and cleansing extracts and juices of roots, herbs and berries, each of which is in daily use in some form by physicians in their practice. Years of work and research have proven S. S. S. to contain everything necessary to purify the blood and at the same time supply the system with the purest and best tonic effects. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism, Dandruff, Sores and Ulcers, Skin Diseases, Scrofula, Contagious Blood Poison and all other blood troubles, and it leaves the system in perfect condition when it has purified the blood. Book containing much valuable information on the blood and any medical advice desired sent free to all who write.

CATHOLICS WAGE
WAR ON LIQUOR

Illinois Temperance Advocates Begin Fight to Establish Dry State

CHICAGO, June 28.—Warfare has been declared by Roman Catholic temperance advocates against the liquor traffic. A call to every member of the Catholic church in Illinois to join the fight for a "dry State," denunciation of Catholic societies which tolerate the sale of intoxicants at picnics and Saturday night dances held by them, and an appeal for a rigid enforcement of the Sunday closing law were contained in resolutions adopted yesterday by the Catholic Total Abstinence Association of Illinois.

Backed by Archbishop Quigley the movement has enlisted the sympathy of many Catholic pastors and plans are on foot to establish in each parish from Chicago to Cairo concrete organizations to battle against the liquor industry.

Preceding the national convention of the organization to be held August 4, 5 and 6, Catholics of Chicago will hold a monster parade through the downtown streets, in which it is expected 10,000 total abstinence supporters will participate.

WAITED UPON BY HER RUNAWAY SON

Society Woman Finds Prodigal in Hotel Astor Dining Room

NEW YORK, June 28.—Mrs. Robert H. Burnham of Reno, Nev., and several friends went to the Hotel Astor yesterday for afternoon tea. The party was assigned to a table and a nice looking young waiter was directed to take their order. When Mrs. Burnham got a good look at him she recognized in him her son, who had left home several years ago and of whom no tidings had been received. Mrs. Burnham calmly ordered what she wanted and the waiter went away.

As soon as the meal was served the waiter took his station nearby to await further orders. Finally Mrs. Burnham left the table to go to the retiring room and once there the waiter was sent for. As he entered the door of the room he rushed up to Mrs. Burnham, crying, "Mother!" and this removed all her previous doubts. Her motherly instinct had not proved untrue and she was again in the arms of the boy she had been mourning as dead.

'LET THEM FLIRT,' SAYS PROFESSOR

Properly Conducted Flirting Imperative For Students, Declares Harvard Sage

BOSTON, June 28.—Professor George Herbert Palmer of Harvard, 61 years old, has come forward with the statement that a little flirting, properly conducted, of course, is not only advisable, but even imperative for the average college boy and girl.

"Flirting is the surest road toward the proper knowledge of social life," says the professor. "I think the girls of Radcliffe and the boys of Harvard devote too much of their time to study. They actually bury themselves in their books and the result is that when they get through college they do not know a thing about social life."

"They should mingle a little, frivolity with their studies—in other words, they should flirt a little."

NEW YORK, June 28.—A large bronze statue of General Francis Spinner, the former treasurer of the United States, whose autograph on greenbacks was famous because of his peculiarity, will be unveiled tomorrow afternoon at his birthplace in Herkimer, New York. The funds for the statue which, cost $25,000, were raised principally among the women employees in the government offices at Washington. General Spinner was the first executive to employ women clerks in the government service. The efforts of leading women for ten years to have the memorial erected at the entrance to the treasury building in Washington failed and it has been erected at his birthplace.

SUES TO REVEAL
SLAYER OF SON

Millionaire Dexter Brings Civil Action in Effort to Solve Murder Mystery

NEW YORK, June 28.—In a further effort to publicly reveal the identity of his son's slayer, Henry Dexter, 58 years old, multi-millionaire and former president of the American News Company, has brought suit in the Supreme Court here against John H. Badger, an attorney at Malone, N. Y. Dexter alleges that he turned over to Badger $50,000 of the American News Company's stock on Badger's representation that he knew who shot and killed Orlando P. Dexter on his father's enormous estate. Dexter relates that he gave this stock believing that Badger could establish the slayer's identity, a belief that he still entertains.

"I do not care for the stock so much," said Dexter, "but I want to force Badger to tell what he knows and I figure that he must now do so or return the stock to me."

Orlando P. Dexter was a victim of the feud which had existed for many years between the owners of great hunting estates in the Adirondacks and the residents of that neighborhood. The Dexter has prosecuted many old-time residents for trespassing and maintained armed guards to keep the unwelcome visitors out. Since Orlando Dexter's murder his father has had a standing reward of $10,000 for the conviction of his slayer and spent a large fortune in seeking evidence.

WOMAN ENDS LIFE WHEN SICKNESS COMES

Tells Members of Family Not to Strike Matches and Cause Explosion

NURSE SLEEPS AS SHE GOES TO DEATH

Writes Farewell Letter to Husband in Room Where Life Was Ended

Despondency caused by pain and lingering sickness resulted in Mrs. Charlotte Judell of 687 Seventh street committing suicide last night by entering the bathroom and turning on the gas. The deceased, who was 65 years of age, carefully planned every detail of her death, and gave notice in writing to those she knew would find her to be careful about lighting matches.

She had been suffering from dropsy for several months and was under the care of a trained nurse. About 1 o'clock last night she told the nurse to go to bed and get some needed rest. The nurse complied with this request, sleeping for four hours. She arose at 5 o'clock and made the discovery that her patient had committed suicide.

Note of Warning
The invalid who was in such poor health that she was compelled to sit in a chair, being unable to lie down on account of the excessive pain, wrote on a chair to the dining room. She placed a placard on the table, written in German warning the members of the household to be careful of gas and not to strike any matches. She then tied the door to prevent anyone from reaching her in time to prevent the success of her plans. Next she went to the bathroom and again wrote another note, warning whoever found her to be careful.

Awaits Death
Once inside, the unfortunate woman penned a loving note to her husband, asking his forgiveness, stating the pain was greater than she could bear. She placed up the door, turned on the gas and calmly awaited death.

She was a native of Germany, but had resided in this city for many years. The remains were removed to the morgue, where an inquest will be held.

JAPANESE KEEP PACT WITH U. S.

Immigration From Orient Decline, but Italy Shows Increase

SAN FRANCISCO, June 28.—Daniel J. O'Keefe, recently appointed Commissioner General of Immigration, in his tour of the Pacific coast is spending a few days in San Francisco, looking over local immigration affairs.

The commissioner states that the agreement entered into between President Taft and the Japanese government, restricting the immigration of Japanese, is being respected by the Orientals, and from present indications the Japanese problem is working out in the right direction.

98,000 Italians

He states that although the Japanese immigration has materially decreased within the past year, the volume of immigration from other countries, with the exception of Italy, remains about the same. From Southern Italy alone, he states, the number of immigrants within the past three months has been $3,000.

Regarding the recently reported smuggling cases, O'Keefe believes that the Canadian and Mexican officials are co-operating with the United States in preventing the smuggling of immigrants across the borders.

Commissioner O'Keefe states that the Pacific Mail Steamship Company should provide an adequate shed for detained immigrants, stating that the fact that the Orientals were allowed to land at all was merely an accommodation on the part of the United States Government.

First Official Visit

O'Keefe received his appointment as commissioner last December and this is his first official visit here. For many years he has been president of the San Francisco branch of the International Longshoremen's Association and was at the time of the International Longshoremen's strike in 1907 until the date of his federal appointment.

Although he received his appointment from Michigan, he was born and spent most of his life in Illinois.

PATRICK CALHOUN AS DUELLIST SPARED OPPONENT'S LIFE

Stood Calmly as Georgia Insulted Rapidly Fired Five Times at Him

THEN REFUSED TO KILL

"I Spare Him for His Family's Sake," Whereupon His Foe Craved Pardon

By JOHN TEMPLE GRAVES.
New York American, Tuesday, June 22.—Patrick Calhoun, grandson of John C. Calhoun, and the chief figure in the famous quill trial just concluded in San Francisco, was the hero in what was perhaps the most romantic duel ever fought in the South.

Mr. Calhoun is not a quarrelsome man, but on more than one occasion has demonstrated courage of the most unflinching type.

In 1872 Mr. Calhoun was the vice-president of the Richmond Terminal, now the Southern Railway. He had headquarters in Atlanta, and conducted through a stormy session of the Georgia Legislature in which its mergers and consolidations were fiercely assailed by the popular element of the Assembly.

Colonel John D. Williamson was the president of the Chattanooga, Rome & Georgia Railroad, later a branch of the Central Railroad of Georgia. In one of the heated hearings before the legislative committee Williamson insulted Calhoun. Calhoun, who was never known to lose his temper, tranquilly demanded an apology, which Williamson refused. The next day Calhoun renewed his demand for an apology, which Williamson again refused.

Then Calhoun formally challenged Williamson to a duel. Williamson promptly accepted.

Calhoun's second was Captain Harry Jackson, of the "best blood of Georgia," and himself a famous duelist and exemplar of the Code.

Had to Dodge Sheriffs
The promoters of the parties made the news of the quarrel and the probable duel general throughout the State, and the authorities everywhere were on the lookout for the men.

Calhoun and Williamson disappeared from Atlanta, with their respective seconds, and devoted twenty hours to a strenuous effort to dodge the sheriffs of two States in order that they might reach a duelling ground in Alabama, some sixty miles east of Birmingham, on the way Calhoun ousted himself up on two seals of a passenger car and slept.

The fateful spot was reached at 6:30 p. m., and five minutes after Calhoun and his second arrived Colonel Williamson and his second, Mr. King, of Georgia, arrived upon the field with a surgeon and two newspaper men in disguise, one of whom was the famous Colonel Ed Bruffey, of the Atlanta Constitution.

After a brief consultation between Captain Jackson and Mr. King the former announced that the weapons, furnished by Colonel Williamson, were to be five-barreled revolvers of a new pattern, which could be discharged with great rapidity. It was stated to the principals that each man was entitled to fire five shots at the other, in any order which he saw fit to employ, standing in their places.

Fired Five Shots Rapidly
The usual distance was marked off by Mr. King, who upon a toss for position, won for his principal the right to turn his back to the sun, at the time just setting.

Captain Jackson gave the word, and simultaneously five shots with almost conceivable rapidity rang out from the weapon of Williamson, who had practiced diligently the accomplishment of shooting five barrels within as many seconds.

With extraordinary quickness Calhoun, who was a dead shot, realized the tactics of his enemy, and instantly divined that the rapidity of shooting was not likely to be accomplished with good marksmanship. Whereupon, after his first shot, which was not intended to kill, he dropped his weapon to his side and received with perfect tranquillity the entire volley of Colonel Williamson's pistol without a scratch.

After the discharge of Williamson's weapon Calhoun still held his pistol arm at his side.

Williamson impulsively started toward his second, saying, "Reload this pistol." Instantly the stern voice of Captain Jackson from Calhoun's corner rang out, "Back to your place, sir, or I fire on you myself." Under the rules of the duel you cannot leave your place until your principal's weapon is discharged.

Williamson, himself a man of dauntless courage, returned to his place and faced his adversary.

Again Asked For Apology
Calhoun's voice, untroubled, addressed his opponent across the twenty paces in the fast falling twilight.

"Captain Williamson," said he, "in a committee room of the Georgia Legislature, without warrant in fact or provocation from me, you impugned my personal integrity."

Whereupon Calhoun, turning, fired at a small twig quibustant with Williamson from him. The bullet cut it clean in twain.

"Now, Captain Williamson," said he, "your life is in my hands. I have a right under the rules of the combat to take it without dishonor. I have no wish to deprive your family of your life or of your services. Once more I ask you to repair the injustice of your words before the Legislature and to disclaim the reflection upon my integrity."

"I will save you dignity first," replied Williamson hotly. "I demand another pistol and another shot."

"Then," said Calhoun to the seconds, "I give this man's life to his family, who need it."

And raising his right hand he disengaged the four remaining barrels of his revolver into the air, bowed to the opposite corner and left his place.

Captain Jackson impulsively rushed forward and embraced his principal for an

$5,000,000 CORPORATION TO BUILD DOCKS

Company Formed to Construct Wharves at Key Route Terminal

TO ISSUE 50,000 SHARES OF STOCK

E. E. Heron Denies Searles and C. P. Murdock Are Among Incorporators

With a view to consummating the mammoth docking, wharfing and terminal project for a long time contemplated by the Realty Syndicate for the Key Route basin and the vicinity of the water-front, the promoters of the scheme this morning filed articles of incorporation of the Oakland Dock and Terminal Company with the County Clerk.

The capital stock of the concern is stated at $5,000,000, divided into 50,000 shares of the par value of $100 each, of which 25,000 shares shall be preferred stock and 25,000 shares shall be common stock.

The incorporators and directors for the first year are E. E. Heron, president of the San Francisco, Oakland and San Jose Railroad Company; Dennis Searles of Piedmont, C. P. Murdock of Alameda; George E. Pratt of Berkeley and Stanley J. Smith of Oakland.

To Construct Docks
The purposes and objects of the corporation is to construct and operate docks, wharves, drydocks, slips, piers, ship basins, elevators, derricks, warehouses, coal yards, factories and stores and all kinds of terminals for railway or water transportation, and to furnish terminal facilities for the handling of freight and passengers to railroads, transportation and shipping corporations in individuals; also to engage in freighting, lightering, wharfage, warehousing and dredging business; to load and unload cargo and vessels of all kinds and descriptions, and to establish and control all other adjunct enterprises that relate to the enterprise for which the corporation is launched.

Dividends will be the principal place of business of the company and it is provided in the articles that the preferred stock shall be entitled to receive from the surplus profits arising from the business of the corporation, yearly dividends at the rate of 6 per cent per annum, payable in semi-annual installments.

Method of Payment
The dividends on the preferred stock will be cumulative and will be declared and paid, or set apart, before any dividends on the common stock is paid or set apart, so that at any time dividends amounting to 6 per cent per annum has not been paid thereon, or declared and set apart for all preceding dividend periods, the deficiency will be declared and paid, or set apart, before any dividends are paid or set apart for the common stock.

Whenever all cumulative dividends on the preferred stock for all previous years have been declared and become payable, and the accrued installments for the current year have been declared, and the corporation has paid the cumulative dividends for previous years and the accrued installments, or has set aside from the surplus profits arising from its business a sum sufficient for the payment of the dividends for previous years and the accrued installments for the current year, the Board of Directors is authorized to declare dividends on the common stock payable then or thereafter out of any remaining surplus profits.

In the event of any dissolution or winding up of the corporation (whether voluntary or involuntary) the holders of the preferred stock will be entitled to be paid out of the surplus profits arising from the business of the corporation and then remaining intact, the amount of the unpaid dividends, if any accrued upon the preferred stock, or such part thereof as such surplus profits shall be sufficient to pay, and to be paid from any of the assets of the corporation in full the par value of their shares before any amount is paid to the holders of the common stock, and after such payments, the remaining assets and funds will be divided and paid to the holders of the common stock according to their respective shares.

Working Capital
The Board of Directors is given authority from time to time to set aside from the surplus profits of the business such a sum for a working capital to be employed in the business of the corporation as the directors may determine. The amount of the capital stock which has been actually subscribed is $800, each of the following persons taking one share of the value of $100: E. E. Heron, C. P. Murdock, C. E. Pratt, C. P. Murdock, George E. Pratt and Stanley Smith.

And the next day the details of this most romantic of Southern duels rang throughout the city. The duel was over. Within an hour after the duel was over, Colonel Williamson, moved by the extraordinary conduct of Calhoun, came to him and voluntarily withdrew his remarks, and the two men went away from the battlefield in Williamson's private car with a friendship that has survived to this day.

It should be related that the only casualty resulting from this extraordinary combat of honor came to Colonel Ed Bruffey of the Atlanta Constitution, who has a thumb shot off in the wrist, fustled by Colonel Williamson's original volley of bullets.

Mrs. Lindblom, Recently Returned From Portland, a Dinner Hostess

MR. AND MRS. ERIC LINDBLOM.

Mrs. Erik O. Lindblom was hostess last evening at one of the most perfectly appointed affairs of the month. A dinner with covers laid for twenty-six was served, the occasion being to celebrate the birthday anniversary of the husband of the hostess.

Cecil Bruner roses were used in profusion in the decorative scheme and at the place of each lady was a corsage bouquet of the dainty rose and lilies of the valley, tied with pink ribbons.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindblom have returned within a month from Pahr, state of Chihuahua. Mr. Lindblom has large interests in the southern country, where he owns the controlling interest in the electric light plants, water works and telephone system of Pahr.

It was this gentleman who discovered the rich mining district of Nome, and there made his big strike. His charming wife is an ideal hostess and an extremely handsome woman.

Covers were laid for Baron and Baroness George M. POLICE BAFFLED TREADWELL IS BY DYNAMITE VINDICATED BY PROSECUTOR

Wrecking of Telephone Exchange Remains Mystery to Chicago Sleuths

DAMAGE TO PROPERTY WILL EXCEED $100,000

Striking Employees and Participants in Gamblers' War Under Suspicion

CHICAGO, June 28.—The cause of the explosion which last night wrecked a telephone exchange in the heart of the city, did damage to property estimated to exceed $100,000 and inflicted injuries which may be fatal to one man and seriously wounded fourteen others, is still unexplained. The police are unable to determine whether it was the work of persons desiring to harm the telephone company or another of the series of bombs which have marked the progress of what is known as the "gamblers' war."

Suspect Strikers
A number of telephone employees are now on a strike and the police incline to the belief that this had connection with the explosion. The principal damage was to the conduit through which the conveying cables of the telephone company pass to the exchange. Fifteen cables, controlling 25,000 telephones, were torn, twisted and severed by the explosion.

One of the police theories is that the telephone company's refusal to permit its wires to be used in the transmission of bets on races has brought it under the ban of a hand in the "thirty bomb" explosions that have thus far baffled solution.

Few of the buildings within a radius of a block escaped damage. Broken windows for two blocks around testified to the force of the explosive used.

THREE IN NIGHT FIGHT ON TOP PIKE'S PEAK BUT FLEES WITHOUT MONEY

Students Severely Injure Keeper of Tavern on Mountain Crest

CLAIM THEY FOUGHT IN SELF-DEFENSE

Send For Help When Opponent Is Beaten Unconscious

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., June 28.—After a desperate hand to hand conflict early this morning on the summit of Pike's Peak, 14,000 feet high, John A. Clark and George Shipley, students of the University of Chicago, are in jail and Howard H. Robinson, government caretaker of the Summit house, is hovering between life and death at the St. Francis hospital in this city.

Fight in Dark
The fight was the result of a quarrel over the charge demanded by Robinson for accommodation in the Summit house, which is maintained as a resting place for those who make the peak trip. The fight took place in total darkness in the middle of the night when the three men were the only ones on the mountain top. The two young men say that Robinson attacked them because they awakened him and they attacked him in self-defense.

Robinson is unconscious and his version of the encounter is not known. Shipley and Clark arrived in this city from the east two days ago. They were well dressed, seemed to have plenty of money and made a number of friends. Saturday night they decided to walk up to the summit of Pike's peak, a favorite trip of tourists in the Rocky Mountain region.

They reached the summit at 1 o'clock and were weakened to the point of exhaustion by the icy winds and the blinding snowstorm. They rapped on the door of the Summit house, where Robinson was asleep.

Quarrel Over Money
The latter admitted they and they had something to eat. After they had come back to the main room, which was illuminated by the candle in a neighboring room, a quarrel arose over the price of rooms for the remainder of the night. According to the story of one of the men, Robinson ordered them out, with no place to spend the night until the little train of the famous peak road could take them back to Manitou. They refused to leave. When the two confronted Robinson, who was asleep, he possessed a basty temper, went back of the lunch counter and drew a short, sharp knife, which he kept for protection.

Then the three men, three miles above civilization, fought a fierce struggle. After several minutes of desperate fighting Robinson dropped back unconscious.

Boys Summon Help
Realizing the seriousness of the affair, the two boys, after they had bathed their own wounds, telephoned to the depot of the cog road in Manitou for assistance.

A special train was at once chartered bearing Sheriff George Birdsell of El Paso county, Dr. L. H. Beck of Manitou and Ed Wells. The picturesque little train with its sloping top made the fastest trip in its history, arriving at the Summit in an hour.

The wounds of the three men were bound up and the return trip was made. Robinson was rushed to the hospital and Shipley and Clark were placed in custody.

Shipley and Clark are broken-hearted over the affair and are constantly inquiring as to what Robinson's chances are.

OAKLAND MAN IS SUICIDE IN EAST

Heat Drives William Hiskey to End His Life by Hanging

ALLENTOWN, Pa., June 28.—Suffering physically and mentally from the effects of the heat, William Hiskey, aged 61 years, formerly of Oakland, Cal., committed suicide today by hanging. His widow lives in Oakland.

Jury Instructed
The court briefly thanked the jurors for their services, and instructed them, in accordance with the views put forward by the assistant district attorney, and a verdict of acquittal was immediately rendered.

This is the second time that Treadwell has been acquitted in the same department of the court, the first occasion being his trial for the alleged hypochondria of other securities of the bank. The evidence sought to be brought in by Cook this morning was that concerning Robinson, for which Walter J. Carlton, another official of the bank, was convicted and sent to ten years in San Quentin.

There are still two other indictments against Treadwell which it is thought will also be dismissed. Attorney Cook has promised to make known to Attorneys Blyngton and Drexler his decision in this matter on Wednesday.

Suspicious of Him
The last seen of him on the farm was Thursday, June 24, saying he was going to Sacramento. The fellow employees of the mysterious Chinaman who had passed himself off as a Japanese, and later as a Korean, seemed to have been impressed with the fellow's insincerity, and while they could not positively identify him as the man who had killed Elsie Sigel, the fact that the picture was taken several years ago, and also that Ling is an accomplished actor and may have changed his appearance, may account for this.

May Be Victim
NEW YORK, June 28.—The failure to find any trace of Leon Ling caused the police to give some attention to the theory strongly revised today that the missing man may not have killed Elsie Sigel, and that he was his self the victim of the same hand that killed the girl.

This line of reasoning necessitates the rejection of the story told by Chuen Sin, who said he had seen Leon in the room over the Eighth avenue restaurant where the mysterious Chinaman was killed. It is regarded as probable that the body was placed in a trunk as was the girl's and this has drawn renewed attention to the baggage checked at Schenectady near where Chuen Sin was found and traced by a Chinaman from Schenectady to Cleveland.

"If Leon is dead," said Police Inspector McCafferty today, "we have arrested a man who killed him under arrest and we can lay our hands on another in five hours."

A story that Elsie Sigel might have been murdered in Washington from an anonymous letter which Louis Fork, a Chinaman, who has given some assistance to the police in their work on the case, today reported having received. Fork says the writer of the letter, which is in Chinese, declares Miss Sigel and Leon Ling were seen in Washington on the afternoon of June 8. The authorities were not inclined to place much credence in the letter.

MAKE CHOICE OF PORTOLA POSTER

Randall W. W. Borough Gets Prize—Virgil Nahl Is a Close Second

SAN FRANCISCO, June 28.—The poster committee of the Portola Festival has finally made a selection from the 160 designs submitted to it and which were on exhibition in the tapestry room at the St. Francis Hotel for several days last week.

The poster selected is the work of a young San Francisco artist, Randall W. W. Borough. He accordingly gets the best poster prize, a sum of $100, to be sent all over the world. It will attract widespread attention, both because it is the official poster of a festival well as the United States. Young Borough will, in consequence, get considerable fame.

The poster embodies a clever idea of gaiety and laughter, witty and fully portrayed. The figure is that of a girl representing a Spanish type. She is seen dancing with all the abandon of her race. She is the personification of victory, her eyes sparkling with the excitement of the moment, her arms in graceful movement, her countenance aglow with pleasure, her shapely mouth partly open from the exertion of the dance, showing lips the color of a June rose. And over her head, in the west are blood-red sun setting in the west are in her hair, her hands and straw about her. In the background can be seen the ferry building and tower and some of the modern structure of the new city; behind are the mountains.

First Coal Comes.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 28.—Until the American-Hawaiian steamer Alaskan arrived here late Friday night with 10,046 tons of coal for the government from Newport News, there had been no coal shipped by the government from the Atlantic Coast to this city except by foreign vessels. The American-Hawaiian steamer usually brings their freight to market, and the coal is then shipped to the city by the government.

IDORA PROVES BIG ATTRACTION

Great Crowd Hears Navassars and Sees and Likes Wild
West Show

Yesterday was a memorable one at Idora Park, for seldom has such a crowd invaded the spacious grounds of "the park beautiful" and never has a better far attraction been presented to the patrons of Oakland's big pleasure resort. The fifty charming band-lasses gave their final Sunday concert yesterday and the big throng of music lovers who assembled at both afternoon and evening concerts, applauded the work of the girl musicians to the echo. Idora after noon was played by the smiling girl musicians, but the enthusiastic audience seemed never to get weary of the music.

Farewell Concert

Tuesday evening will be the farewell performance of the Navassars. After the Idora Park, they depart on their special for Alberta, Canada, where they will give their next engagement at the Grand Theatre, Vancouver.

Other features, besides the Navassars, came in for a goodly share of attention yesterday. The "Man Who Sings to the Moon" and the "Man Who Sings to the Stars" were the featured attractions. The audience voted the show O. K. The "Man Who Sings to the Moon" and the "Man Who Sings to the Stars" were the featured attractions. The audience voted the show O. K. ## Select Officers Who Will Have Charge of Reliance Auto Races

WOMAN TO DRIVE AGAINST TIME

Great Crowd Expected to Visit Track to Witness
Speed Contests

That merchants, bankers, lawyers, commercial bodies and athletic organizations are behind the coming automobile meet, to be held on July 28, at the Idora Park, under the auspices of the Reliance Club, is evinced by the eagerness in which everyone co-operates in helping to make it a grand success. No difficulty was experienced at all last night in appointing the officials, and men, representative of the highest and best in Oakland, willingly allowed their names to be put down by the officer committee.

Tickets for the races are selling at a rapid rate and it is believed that one of the largest crowds that ever congregated at an auto race this side of the Pacific will be present. Autoists and all others interested in speeding will be on hand from all parts of the State and there is every likelihood that some records will be broken.

Woman to Drive

Entries are coming in thick and fast from many of the best drivers in California. What promises to be a more exciting contest than any of the others will be the race between the members of the Reliance and Olympic Clubs. For many months a keen rivalry has existed between various autoists of both clubs on the merits of their machines, and the talk has arisen to a jealous, but friendly, competition. Those in the local organization who are entered for the event have been doing a great deal of practicing of late and are ready to give the trans-bay people the run of their lives. Another race that has excited a good deal of comment is the five-mile drive against time that will be made by Mrs. Brody.

MAKES REPLY TO MISS LAMBERT

Mackay Sutherland Says the Girl From the Golden West is All Right

EDITOR TRIBUNE: "In those strange days people coming from God knows where, joined forces and they laughed, gambled, cursed, killed, loved and worked in a manner incredible to us of today. Of one thing we are sure—they lived." (Early History of California, as quoted on the program of David Belasco's drama, "The Girl of the Golden West.")

No history does not repeat itself; those days in California are gone and will never return; they belong to the past and live only in memory, kept alive there by Mark Twain and Bert Harlow, in story, and by David Belasco and others in drama. Nevertheless, students of drama and theater-goers are asking themselves the question, Does history repeat itself?

A few years ago in San Francisco a certain clique of people took exception to an Irish play produced by a fine type of an Irish-American, the late Dennis O'Sullivan, and for years afterwards sensible people smiled to read on this program the notice "that this play was changed to meet the wishes of those people in San Francisco." Now comes the same ridiculous cry over a play by David Belasco, one of our most famous Native Sons. Were the fair objector not so well known I would put the whole affair down as the work of a clever press agent appealing to 1200 men of the Chamber of Commerce and the Native Sons to be sure and visit the "Girl of the Golden West."

She Lived in '49

Like the characters in "The Luck of Roaring Camp," and other famous stories, "The Girl of the Golden West" represents the type of men and woman who lived in the days of '49, and to say that any of these works libel the men or women of California today is sheer nonsense. The business men of Venice would be justified in objecting, on the same grounds, to Shakespeare's play on the merchant of that city or the club woman of New York might object to Miss Edna May libeling the society women of the city by representing the belle of New York as being a Salvation Army lassie, or perhaps to come down to the present time, Mrs. Fiske might get a call down from the same source for libeling the women as being typical of Salvation Nell and her associates. There could be no end of objections made to books and plays if every one was suddenly attacked by the same mental short-sightedness as is shown in this cry to advertise.

The mere fact that we have still in our midst a few girls of the Hell-ing, Damning, Whiskey Slinging dance hall type, suggests that for the sake of generations yet unborn, Aid Societies, irrespective of age, have still some of their civic and particular work to perform before they venture to discuss dramatic biological questions.

I have faith in the ladies of Oakland to know that they will not permit their clubs to repeat the San Francisco incident already referred to; their dramatic sections are too advanced to descend to any play cheap advertising, even in advertisement.

Some Are Drunkards

Ladies, the 1200 members of the Chamber of Commerce are doubtless attending to their own business, that of Commerce and Native sons, and are proud of "my beautiful West."

Oh... my California, realize that there is occasionally some among them who are drunkards, but don't lay the blame on their forebears, the Tadpole or the Fish, and who, when tempted to play a quiet game of cards with one of the native daughters, do so without fear, knowing that the girl of the Golden West, away back in '49, in the Polka saloon, cheated at cards for her sweetheart's life, and then left the state.

The people of some other state (the play does not state which) are the descendants of this Damning, Hell-ing girl, and they have added lustre to the fame of California by giving this play the work of a Native Son and the role played by a Native Daughter a patronage that has seldom, if ever, been excelled.

A Thrilling Rescue.
How Bert R. Lean of Cheney, Wash., was saved from a frightful death is a story to thrill the world. "A hard old," he writes, "brought on a desperate lung trouble that baffled an expert doctor when I paid $10 to $15 a visit to a lung specialist in Spokane, who did not help me. Then I went to California, where I paid $100 to $150 a visit to King's New Discovery, which completely cured me and now I am as well as ever." For Lung Trouble, Bronchitis, Coughs and Colds, Asthma, Croup and Whooping Cough it's supreme; 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Osgood Bros.

If you are not satisfied after using according to directions two-thirds of a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough and Lung Tablets, you can have your money back. The tablets cleanse and invigorate the stomach, improve the digestion, regulate the bowels, give them trial and get well. Sold by Osgood's drug stores.

SPRECKELS MAY RUN FOR OFFICE
May Get in the Fight for Mayor and Run on Heney's
Platform

SAN FRANCISCO, June 28.—On the authority of Edward F. Cahill of the Call it is stated that Rudolph Spreckels is a candidate for United States Senator, and Francis J. Heney, besides being a candidate for district attorney, is a candidate for Governor of California.

It is also stated on the authority of Mr. Cahill that Rudolph Spreckels is likely to be a candidate for mayor. The story is told in this paragraph: "These tactics of the interests are pinheaded and narrow. What must be the result? Simply that Spreckels, finding himself without an available candidate, will run for mayor himself."

$10,000 NEEDED TO FIX
486 CHILDREN'S TEETH
NEW YORK, June 28.—Intervention of Miss Dorothy Whitney in behalf of the Junior League has caused an investigation by the health department into the condition of the teeth of children 14, 15 and 16 years old, seeking permit to allow their employment. The revolutionizing of the examination of 486 applications during May for those so-called "mercenary papers" were amazing. Only fourteen of the 486 had all sound teeth; there were 3803 unsound teeth in the jaws of the remainder, of which 267 must be extracted and 419 of the children had molars which did not meet and were of slight use for mastication purposes. To put in proper condition the mouths of these children will cost from $5000 to $10,000.

CAR AND WAGON COLLIDE.
Ed Gaspe, a carpenter residing at East Twelfth street and Seventeenth avenue, drove his horse and wagon into an auto bound car yesterday, at the corner of Seventeenth avenue and Fourteenth street. The vehicle was badly damaged and Gaspe sustained numerous lacerations and bruises about the body by being thrown to the pavement, which much liquor is said to have been responsible for the accident. Gaspe was treated at the Receiving Hospital.

TESTED AND PROVEN HONOR OLDEST STATION AGENT

There is a Heap of Solace in Being Able to Depend Upon a Well-Earned Reputation.

For months Oakland readers have seen the constant expression of praise for Doan's Kidney Pills and read about the good work they have done in this locality. Not another remedy ever produced such convincing proof of merit.

George Furlong, teacher, 1907 University avenue, Berkeley, Cal., says: "I am quite willing that you should use my name as an endorser of Doan's Kidney Pills. For a year I was subject to an ache across my loins and if I took cold or did any hard work the trouble was aggravated. The kidney secretions were highly colored and at times a retention existed. The good accounts I heard about Doan's Kidney Pills induced me to get this remedy. Its use proved most successful, for in a short time I was completely relieved and there was a general improvement. I feel justified in vouching for the claims made for Doan's Kidney Pills."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McBride Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

RICHMOND PLANS A HUGE JUBILEE

Citizens Will Inaugurate New
Charter on July 1 With
Big Feast

RICHMOND, June 28.—The citizens of Richmond are planning for a huge jubilation feast in commemoration of the fact that the new city charter is about to take effect, by which an entire new council will manage the city's affairs.

Almost eighteen months have elapsed since the proposition of a new charter was launched. First came the election as to whether the town should have a new charter and the election of a freeholders' board. Then ensued a long time, during which the freeholders were busily engaged in framing the new charter. Next came the election for the adoption of the charter and finally the legalizing of the same by the Legislature.

The charter goes into effect on July 1 and the citizens of Richmond propose to hold a jubilation feast, the only guests being those residing board of trustees and the incoming councilmen.

The promoters of the proposition met in the city hall of Richmond a few nights ago and perfected the arrangements.

Exercises at Night

A committee of thirty citizens was selected to carry out the plans. The committee is composed of the following business men and citizens of the town: L. D. Windrem, H. H. Turley, M. J. Beaumont, P. M. Dean, W. S. McKen, L. N. Fess, C. L. Abbott, H. N. Barney, Charles Hoyer, C. F. King, J. F. Brooks, F. S. Babcock, L. Little, A. Tuferson, A. C. Kerley, F. C. Schram, T. D. Redwell, T. Johnston, E. H. Griffin, C. H. Robertson, P. E. Adams, W. B. Brown, J. S. Chandler, L. Becker, Martin, L. Kelly, S. D. Gadsberry, J. W. Griffith, C. R. Blake, W. H. Conn, Charles Swartout.

The affair will be given on the night of July 1 in Palm hall on Washington avenue. Lee D. Windrem, Richmond's popular attorney, will preside over the banquet as toastmaster. The arrangements which include a large orchestra, provide for an elaborate affair.

The only guests will be the retiring board of trustees, composed of J. B. Willis, G. A. Follett, E. J. Garrard, I. M. Perrin and L. Roswell. The incoming board will consist of John N. Hartnett, J. C. Owens, J. J. Doelling, H. E. Wyatt, Edward McDuff, Otto R. Ludewig and three of the retiring trustees, J. B. Willis, G. A. Follett and E. J. Garrard.

MRS. MARY ROSENBERG BORN TO THE GRAVE

ALAMEDA, June 28.—The funeral of Mrs. Mary Jean Rosenberg, who died a few days ago while on the train in Mexico while returning after a vain search for health, was held Saturday afternoon from her late home at 1437 Benton street. The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. Willard Martin of the First Methodist Church. The remains were incinerated at the Oakland crematorium.

Mrs. Rosenberg is survived by her husband, Robert C. Rosenberg, and three children, Robert C., Jr., William and Phyllis Rosenberg.

Mrs. Rosenberg was the daughter of Mrs. M. J. Rulofsen of the Rulofsen family prominent in the early annals of California.

For months Oakland readers have seen the constant expression of praise for Doan's Kidney Pills and read about the good work they have done in this locality. Not another remedy ever produced such convincing proof of merit.

George Furlong, teacher, 1907 University avenue, Berkeley, Cal., says: "I am quite willing that you should use my name as an endorser of Doan's Kidney Pills. For a year I was subject to an ache across my loins and if I took cold or did any hard work the trouble was aggravated. The kidney secretions were highly colored and at times a retention existed. The good accounts I heard about Doan's Kidney Pills induced me to get this remedy. Its use proved most successful, for in a short time I was completely relieved and there was a general improvement. I feel justified in vouching for the claims made for Doan's Kidney Pills."

RICHMOND PLANS A HUGE JUBILEE

Citizens Will Inaugurate New
Charter on July 1 With
Big Feast

RICHMOND, June 28.—The citizens of Richmond are planning for a huge jubilation feast in commemoration of the fact that the new city charter is about to take effect, by which an entire new council will manage the city's affairs.

Almost eighteen months have elapsed since the proposition of a new charter was launched. First came the election as to whether the town should have a new charter and the election of a freeholders' board. Then ensued a long time, during which the freeholders were busily engaged in framing the new charter. Next came the election for the adoption of the charter and finally the legalizing of the same by the Legislature.

The charter goes into effect on July 1 and the citizens of Richmond propose to hold a jubilation feast, the only guests being those residing board of trustees and the incoming councilmen.

The promoters of the proposition met in the city hall of Richmond a few nights ago and perfected the arrangements.

Exercises at Night

A committee of thirty citizens was selected to carry out the plans. The committee is composed of the following business men and citizens of the town: L. D. Windrem, H. H. Turley, M. J. Beaumont, P. M. Dean, W. S. McKen, L. N. Fess, C. L. Abbott, H. N. Barney, Charles Hoyer, C. F. King, J. F. Brooks, F. S. Babcock, L. Little, A. Tuferson, A. C. Kerley, F. C. Schram, T. D. Redwell, T. Johnston, E. H. Griffin, C. H. Robertson, P. E. Adams, W. B. Brown, J. S. Chandler, L. Becker, Martin, L. Kelly, S. D. Gadsberry, J. W. Griffith, C. R. Blake, W. H. Conn, Charles Swartout.

The affair will be given on the night of July 1 in Palm hall on Washington avenue. Lee D. Windrem, Richmond's popular attorney, will preside over the banquet as toastmaster. The arrangements which include a large orchestra, provide for an elaborate affair.

The only guests will be the retiring board of trustees, composed of J. B. Willis, G. A. Follett, E. J. Garrard, I. M. Perrin and L. Roswell. The incoming board will consist of John N. Hartnett, J. C. Owens, J. J. Doelling, H. E. Wyatt, Edward McDuff, Otto R. Ludewig and three of the retiring trustees, J. B. Willis, G. A. Follett and E. J. Garrard.

MRS. MARY ROSENBERG BORN TO THE GRAVE

ALAMEDA, June 28.—The funeral of Mrs. Mary Jean Rosenberg, who died a few days ago while on the train in Mexico while returning after a vain search for health, was held Saturday afternoon from her late home at 1437 Benton street. The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. Willard Martin of the First Methodist Church. The remains were incinerated at the Oakland crematorium.

Mrs. Rosenberg is survived by her husband, Robert C. Rosenberg, and three children, Robert C., Jr., William and Phyllis Rosenberg.

Mrs. Rosenberg was the daughter of Mrs. M. J. Rulofsen of the Rulofsen family prominent in the early annals of California.

Casey has been famed long enough for his immortal fanning act. Mr. Bell thinks the man who did the trick, the redoubtable twirler of the Frogtown team, should have his share of the glory; and he gives it to him in this witty take-off,
